Student Council Officers Elected

The student body at Southern elected Jack Jones to serve as president of the Student Council for the coming year at the election held on May 1. Jack, who holds the vice-presidency for the present year, will be a senior next year.

In the same election Harold Meyer won the vice-presidency. Jill Jones was elected secretary. Sam Tibbs, treasurer, and Sharon Sanders, assistant treasurer.

The students delegated the amendment to the student constitution which would have deprived the outgoing seniors of the right to vote for the student council officers for the new school year.

Miss Ann Dillard was in charge of the elections which were held in the lobby where the voting machines were set up.

Scholarships Received

Two of Southern's juniors, Todd Schamle and Dick Gnegy, have received scholarships from the National Science Foundation to attend summer school at West Virginia Wesleyan college this year.

The program is designed to promote the study of science, namely chemistry, for students who are not offered facilities for advanced study in chemistry in their schools. The summer science program will last for a period of five weeks.

Art Exhibit

Southern's art classes will present an art exhibit from May 11 to 18 throughout the school. Art students from grades eight through twelve will display their work under the direction of Miss Frances Patterson, Chairman for the exhibit.

The exhibits will include mosaics, ceramics, different types of paintings, leather work and Indian drawings and black prints.

Also at the display, two plaques that were designed by the art students depicting a high school boy and a high school girl will be presented to the school. These plaques will then be placed in the school lobby.

Pictures Out Of The Past

Students At Paradise School Pictured In Years 1914 Or 1915

Another school group "out of the past" is pictured this week. The students shown attended the Paradise school, and according to a notation on the back of the original photograph the year was 1914 or 1915.

Middle row: Beatrice Means, Hazel Means, Alta Harvey, Ethel Lohr, Grace Meese, an unknown student, Mildred Miller, Lena Harvey, Joe Meese, James Kimmell.

Front row: Unknown, Eleanor Meese, next two unidentified, Bryson Meese, Mary Means, unknown, Noma Harvey, Scott Meese, Peter Lohr.

In spite of the unidentified students, it would appear that from the standpoint of numbers, at least, the Meeses definitely had it!

Firemen Answer Four Calls In 3-Day Period

The Oakland firemen answered four alarms within a three day period with only one of them being of a serious nature.

The summer home of Dr. F. C. Robinson, along U. S. 219, at Deep Creek Lake was partially destroyed by fire last Thursday evening about 5:30 o'clock. The house was not occupied at the time but there had been a member of the family there a short time prior to the discovery of the fire. The loss was not estimated.

The second call answered on Thursday afternoon was at 1:10 p. m. It was a grass fire behind the Faulkner restaurant, Liberty street, Oakland, which caught from a burning trash pile.

Two were answered Saturday afternoon, one at 1:55 and the other at 2:45. The first was a grass fire on the south side of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad tracks near the Eastern States, Eighth street. The second was a call from Ben Beckman, residing some ten miles from Oakland. The fire was out on arrival of the department.

TO THE CITIZENS OF GARRETT COUNTY:

I am seeking the support of our Republican voters at the Primary Election to be held on May 15. If nominated, and later elected, to the office of County Commissioner I hope to be able to perform a useful service to all our citizens.

I decided to become a candidate for this office, because, like many other citizens, I have been dissatisfied with the unnecessary spending of the public money which has resulted in heavy debts, and the highest taxes in our history.

The debt in our County Roads Department which will amount to over $1,300,000.00 at the end of this year is a striking example of where the policy of "borrow and spend" is leading us. A large portion of our annual gasoline tax receipts has been pledged for many years in the future to repay this debt and interest. Yet, the need for maintenance and improvement of our county roads, and the need for snow removal, is just as pressing today, as it was when the borrowing first began, just eight years ago.

I believe that this policy of debt, and high taxes must be reversed now. Otherwise we will have still more debt, and still higher taxes, and the majority of our citizens will be seriously hurt. The need for careful management, and sound policies is plain.

As a County Commissioner I would faithfully try to conserve the public money and use it to improve our necessary county services, and to reduce our debts, so that we may be able to get rid of some of the heavy interest charges which constitute a veritable MILL STONE about our necks.

I would hope that my two colleagues could agree to employ a qualified construction engineer to head our County Roads Department. There is a real need for an experienced engineer who will be able to carry out the policies of our County Commissioners on roads, with efficiency and economy.

When it is necessary to purchase heavy equipment for our roads I would agree to buy ONLY the equipment that is really needed, and that is of the size and build to do the jobs we have for it to do. I have had some experience in these matters. Also, I would insist that all equipment and supplies be bought at the lowest competitive prices.

I would keep the people fully informed about how their tax money is being expended. However, I would not want to waste the public money by having audits made of county records back of 1962, all reports to the contrary notwithstanding.

I believe we should make every reasonable effort to get a moderate sized manufacturing plant to come into our county in order to provide jobs for our unemployed men. To this end I would cooperate with any organization, and I would support a committee of sound business men who are genuinely interested in the economic growth of the county.

Finally, if I do become a County Commissioner, it would be my whole purpose to help establish a sound and efficient county government, free from bossism, favoritism, and waste. This is the only way in which we can hope to receive full benefit from our tax dollars. Our county has many problems with which I am familiar, and with which I believe I am equipped to deal.

I respectfully ask for your most careful consideration at the Primary Election.

"We changed from electric to GAS heat. Now we pay only one-third as much . . . and we heat our entire basement, too."

Says Mr. R. E. Davidson, 126 Pleasantview Street, Beaver Falls, Pa.

After heating their new home with electric resistance heat for one year, the Davidsons converted to GAS heat. (The Davidson home is fully insulated and has storm doors and windows as required for electric resistance heat installations.) Now they pay one dollar for every three they spent while they heated with electricity. For instance, the cost of electric heating of the first floor area only was $400.51. After they converted to GAS heat, their total cost for keeping the entire house at a comfortable temperature was $136.11.

"NOW I CAN USE MY BASEMENT ALL WINTER LONG," says Mrs. Davidson. Because of the excessive cost of electric heating, it is impractical to heat the basement. But with economical GAS, every part of the house is kept at a comfortable temperature—even the garage! Think what this means. Double the space for recreation and household chores. In the Davidson's home, the basement area equals the first floor area—1,092 square feet for each level. So GAS heating doubled the living area in winter—at 1/3 the cost!

COMPARE THE COST of actual electric and gas bills paid by the Davidsons. Below is a table showing electric heating costs for the 1959-1960 winter, and GAS heating costs for the 1960-1961 winter. Remember, the 1960-1961 winter was particularly severe. Even so, GAS bills were so much lower.

. . . the Davidsons saved

$264.40 in heating costs in one winter . . . with GAS!

Turkey Growers To Vote On Marketing

A referendum of turkey growers on a proposed national marketing order for turkeys will be held from June 18 through June 22, Arthur G. Fitzwater, chairman, Garrett Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, announced. The County ASC Committee will conduct the referendum.

The order is designed to provide the industry with means by which the marketing of turkeys can be adjusted so as to assure fair returns to producers and reasonable prices to consumers, said Mr. Fitzwater.

If the order is made effective by the Secretary of Agriculture as a result of grower approval by at least two-thirds of those voting in the referendum—by number or by volume of production, it will be the first marketing order program to be operated on a nationwide basis for any farm commodity.

Eligible to vote in the referendum will be producers, including contract producers, whose annual volume of production is large enough to be affected by the order and who engaged in the production of turkeys during the year 1961.

Turkey growers not eligible to vote are those who produced and marketed less than 3,600 pounds of

A Court should be conducted with authority and dignity at all times — but above all else, with HONESTY!

A good Judge should be FAIR, IMPARTIAL, TOLERANT and JUST in all matters coming before him regardless of his personal feelings, and regardless of any political, personal or social pressures involved. Bias and prejudice should be as foreign to him as Communism is to Democracy.

I accept this responsibility and, standing steadfast on these principles, seek the support of the Citizens of Garrett County for nomination and election to the office of ASSOCIATE JUDGE OF THE FOURTH JUDICIAL CIRCUIT OF MARYLAND, irrespective of party affiliation.

Real Conservatism . . .

Once again, through an American Press poll, the roots editors of the nation have made it clear that they represent the stronghold of conservatism in our country. If they could just convince the majority of their readers of the soundness of their stand, this country would be on the way to real strength.

While many so-called spokesmen for the people are demanding more and more welfare programs and greater dependence upon handouts from Uncle Sam, the rural and smalltown editors are as opposed to these trends today as they ever have been.

Why is it that these editors don't go along with the tide? The answer of the American Press magazine—country editors, more than most people, are aware of what can be done by self-reliant, local groups of citizens as compared with accomplishments under government paternalism.

Week after week these editors report on stories of meetings held by local groups to plan for new schools, to handle local welfare problems, to raise money for hospitals, to build roads, to plan for community betterment. They know that these local activities build good citizens. And they fear that handouts from the federal government are weakening and demoralizing people who once had learned to take care of their own needs.

Furthermore, these editors are more aware than the majority of people how tax money is squandered, how costs rise and how politics dirty the picture whenever social problems are handled from Washington. They object to the federal government siphoning off the hard earned money of

Rotary Plans Auction On Saturday, May 26

The Oakland Rotary club's proposed auction sale, planned for Saturday evening, May 26, at the Oakland fire hall, is broadening in scope this week, with the inclusion of interested persons other than the membership.

The club members are offering a number of new and used items for this sale which is one of two fund raising projects for the year. Citizens are being invited to contribute new and used items of their own which are still in good condition but which have become no longer useful in their own homes. Persons desiring to offer such items may contact the collecting committee, Mason J. Glutty, John Browning, Hugh Denison, John Sharps, Earl Wise and Clarence Stem.

Just prior to the auction sale there will be a band concert in front of the fire hall from 7 to 8 o'clock, and the auction sale will follow immediately. The auctioneer has not yet been named.

Area Residents Give 74 Pints of Blood

Oakland area residents provided 74 pints of blood as the Red Cross bloodmobile unit from Johnstown, Pa., made its regular visit here. The amount was twenty-six pints under the quota, and according to Red Cross officials this morning, places the entire blood program in jeopardy.

There were bright spots in the picture however, two persons became three-gallon members, Lowell Loomis, Oakland, and Rev. Olin Stultz, Edinboro. Three persons became two-gallon members, Jay Bell, William Sharps and Fred Sharps. Three persons became one-gallon donors, James Stevens, Mrs. Alice Eary and W. Perry Shaffer.

Mrs. Grover Stemple, blood recruitment chairman, gave the following statistics: 120 persons scheduled, 53 kept appointment, nine persons were rejected. There were 28 walk-ins. Thirty-four of the 74 pints were for replacements. There were seven first time donors. Mrs. Stemple said that the response to the annual roll call in this area had been very poor and that the amount received had been somewhat under $1,000. It takes $800 annually to keep the bloodmobile unit in operation, and the Red Cross has other local programs that take money. A portion of the amount raised locally also goes to national headquarters.

Russia orbited its fourth Cosmos.

Clifford Bender placed third and Joe Gatterman placed eighth in individual competition. They will receive cash prizes and Bender will receive a bronze medal also.

The Cove milk judging team also won the local contest sponsored by Region FFA chapters, administered by Howard White and his assistant of the Canaan company. The Cove chapter also had teams participating in the dairy poultry and livestock contests. James Teets, member of the poultry team placed second on individual competition and received a silver medal and a cash award. Other Northern High boys participating at College Park were Stewart Stanton, Hiney Roddeaver, Allen DeWitt, Robert Beitzel, Ronald Beitzel, Harry Bush, William Holliday and Harold Codington.

Registration Figures Provide GOP Joy

The registration totals as announced last week, when broken down by districts, provide interesting sidelights.

There are now 9,512 registered voters broken down into 3,652 Democrats, 5,815 Republicans and 17 others.

There were 595 new registrations from January 1, 1962 to and including April 11, and there were listed as 250 Democrats and 315 Republicans, a majority of 95 for the Republican party. This made a net gain of Republicans over the Democrats since the registration in 1960. At that time there were 3,640 Democrats and 3,776 Republicans.

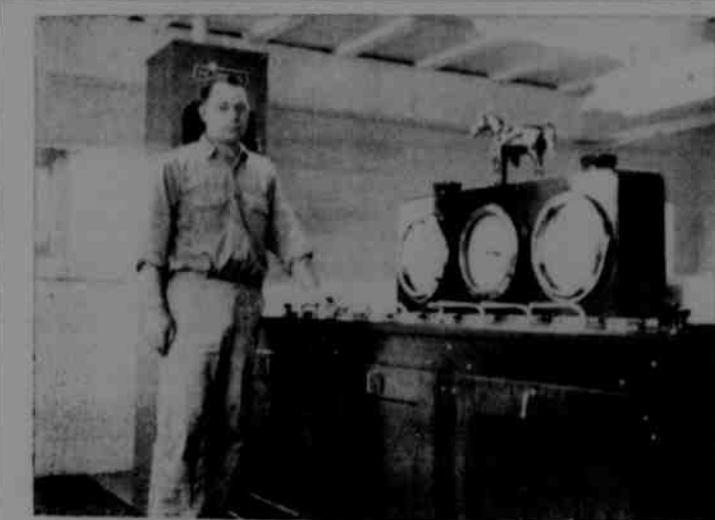

Friedensville is back in the Republican column. Two years ago the figures showed 487 Democrats and 475 Republicans. This year the figures are 437 Democrats and 463 Republicans.

There are now only two districts with Democratic majorities, Johnson, 229 to 173, and Kitzmiller, 416 to 223. The most solid Republican areas are Sang Run with a registration there of 315 to 81. Crellin, 238 to 106; Mt. Lake Park, 533 to 239; Bittinger 148 to 48; Grantsville, 544 to 252; and Oakland, 111-1, 538 to 281.

The complete tally showing the males and females in each district, and totals along with the breakdown on the independents, socialists, and undesignated, etc., appears in today's issue.

Injunction Issued Against Pulp Co-op

A preliminary injunction against the Tri-State Pulpwood Cooperative association, Inc., was granted to West Virginia Pulp and Paper company, yesterday in U. S. District court, Baltimore by Chief Judge Roszel C. Thomsen.

The injunction was sought by the company on the basis that the association had acted illegally in preventing independent producers who hold contracts with the company from delivering pulpwood to the Lake mill.

A temporary restraining order directing the association to stop preventing deliveries of pulpwood to the Lake mill was signed by Judge Thomsen, April 30. The preliminary injunction, in effect, continues this order until August 27, when a hearing will be held to determine whether a permanent injunction should be issued.

The court order, to which the cooperative agreed, prohibits any attempt by the association to induce pulpwood producers, other than its own bona fide members, not to sell or deliver wood to the company; prohibits violence and threats of violence; and restricts picketing activities.

The injunction bans any interference "with free and uninterrupted ingress to and egress from any company property."

Voters Will Go To Polls Tuesday

Republicans List 49 Names; 55 Appear On Democratic Primary Ballot

Voters of Garrett county will go to the polls next Tuesday, May 15, and express their preference for the candidates of the various offices.

There will be forty-nine names on the Republican ballot, and voters will name 21 persons to run in the general election in November. There will be fifty-five names on the Democratic ballot, and Democratic registrants will name twenty persons to run in the general election.

There are candidates for several offices where there is no opposition, whose names will not appear on the primary ballot, but who will be listed in November.

Polls will open at 7 o'clock a. m., and will close at 7 o'clock p. m., both times are standard. Although more towns in the county are on daylight time the county is officially in standard, and the law requires that the election be conducted in that manner.

The Board of Supervisors of Elections is advising that persons go to the polls early and not wait until the last minute, because of the time involved. With so many persons to be selected, it was pointed out that each voter would require more time to mark his ballot, with the possibility that standing in line might become prevalent.

On the Republican ballot there are four candidates for United States Senator, three for governor, two for Congressman at large, two for congressman from the Sixth Congressional district, three for associate judge, two for state senator, six for house of delegates, three candidates for county commissioner from district 1, four for commissioner from district 2, and four for commissioner from district 3. There are also two candidates for treasurer, four for orphans' court, four for sheriff and six for Republican State Central committee. They will choose three persons for House of Delegates, three for orphans' court judges and four for state central committee. For the balance, they will select one for each office.

On the Democratic ballot there are five candidates for United States Senator, seven for governor, two for Controller, two for Attorney General, three for congressman at large, four for congressman from the sixth district, three for associate judge, two for state senator, four for house of delegates, three for commissioner from district 1, two for commissioner from district 2, and four for commissioner from district 3, and thirteen for state central committee. Democrats will select one person from each category with the exception of House of Delegates, where three are to be selected, and State Central Committee, where six are to be named.

Names of all candidates are listed this week in the front of the official ballot which appears in today's issue.

SENATE CLOAKROOM
by Sen. J. Glenn Beall, Jr., M.D.

People Are Interested Questionnaire Returns: You sometimes hear it said that the public is not deeply concerned about national problems, but we have evidence to the contrary. The questionnaires which we recently sent out were filled out and returned to us by more than one in every four persons on our mailing list of 8,000 Marylanders. We received 2,233 answers. Some of the returned questionnaires bore more than one set of answers—one for each adult member of the family. Our list includes doctors, lawyers, executives, ministers, engineers, teachers, farmers, white-collar workers, clerks, carpenters, bricklayers, steelworkers, laborers—people of every profession and trade, of both political parties, in every part of the State—and, I believe, on a fairly proportionate basis. The returns furnish a good cross-section view of how the people of Maryland feel on the important subjects in the public mind. In subsequent issues of Senate Cloakroom, we will analyze some of the returns. The tabulation of the 2,233 answers to each of our 46 questions gives us the following results. The first figure represents "Yes"; the second, "No"; and the third, undetermined. All are expressed in percentages.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of our dad and husband, Allen Uphold, who passed away four years ago, May 7, 1958. God saw the road was getting rough. The hills were hard to climb. He gently closed your loving eyes, And "Whispered", peace be thine. Your weary hours, your days of pain. Your weary nights are past. Your every patient, worn out frame has found sweet rest at last. Sometimes it's hard to understand. Why some things have to be. But in his wisdom, God has planned Beyond our powers to see. Sadly missed, but not forgotten by his wife and children,

Every home has its own First Lady... Mother! She is first in love, first in devotion, first in the hearts of her family. Who else means so much to you in so many ways? What other day is so deeply significant as the one set aside to honor the first lady of your heart: Mother's Day, May 13th?

For Mother's 365 days a year of caring for you, one day seems all too scant to say the things and do the things that will adequately express your love and appreciation. But you can do your best to make the most of it... knowing that Mother, as always, will find her richest rewards in your thoughtfulness.

WANTED BY THE FBI

Eugene Francis Newman

Newman is the alleged machine gun-carrying leader of a gang that attempted the robbery of an armored car carrying $498,500 in American and Canadian currency in Buffalo, New York, on August 3, 1955. He and his associates, wearing silk stocking masks, engaged in a running gun battle with the truck's guards and Buffalo Police, and a machine gun bullet, allegedly fired by Newman, seriously wounded a guard. Two bandits were quickly apprehended but Newman remains at large.

A complaint, filed before a U. S. Commissioner at Buffalo, New York, on August 5, 1955, charges Newman with fleeing the State of New York to avoid prosecution for robbery.

Heavily armed, with a violent temper, Newman has previously been convicted for theft of Government property, interstate transportation of a stolen motor vehicle, petty larceny, and burglary.

He is a white American, reportedly born on October 3, 1928, at Brooklyn, New York, who is 5'8" tall, weighs 170 to 180 pounds, has blond hair, blue eyes, a medium build, and medium complexion.

He has scars near his right eye, on the back of his right hand and on the center of his left cheek. A birthmark appears on his upper left arm and a mole on his left index finger. Tattoos include the name "Danny" and a heart on the outside of his right forearm, and the number "13" within a dotted circle on the back of his left hand. He has worked as a bricklayer, clerk, construction worker, counterman, and laborer.

Consider extremely dangerous. Please immediately notify the nearest FBI Office of any information concerning his whereabouts.

Two Fire Companies
Fight Swanton Blaze

Deer Park and Oakland firemen joined forces Monday, May 7, to battle a blaze at a dwelling in Swanton, owned by William Pierce, of Westernport.

The building, which was being remodeled, became involved in fire about 12:34 p. m., and the person turning in the alarm called both companies. No estimate of damages was available. No one was at home at the time and the cause of the fire was not known.

Both Oakland and Deer Park departments have answered several other calls. Oakland firemen were called to King's Run to extinguish a grass fire on May 5th, about 1:43 of time. Last week, Victor Frosini, Finleyville, Pa., caught a 23½ inch rainbow trout on a worm without a net at Bear Creek. A four pound, 19½ inch brown trout was taken on a salmon egg by Bud Rigglesman at Muddy Creek. Carl Holt-schneider, Deer Park, took a 13" yellow perch with a small minnow in the Pond Run area. Casting from a dock with a Black Headon spinner, John Fleming, Connelville, Pa., landed a 26" Great Northern Pike near Beckman's peninsula. Grace Marple and Daisy Myers, of Oakland, had a day's total catch of 19 yellow perch averaging 10". Trolling with a flatfish plug near the Glendale bridge, Evelyn Cameron angled in a 24½" brown trout weighing 4½ pounds.

To The Republican Voters:

I am a candidate for nomination to the office of County Commissioner from Commissioner District #1. I served in this capacity for four years, having been elected in 1951. During that time I tried, to the best of my ability, to help administer the affairs of our county in accordance with the intent of the law. I gave full support to our schools and roads and other necessary activities. And if elected, I will support the Deep Creek Lake-Garrett County Promotion Council and the Garrett County Development Corp. to encourage new industries into the county.

I feel that the experience gained from these years of service would help me now to serve more effectively than before.

Your influence at the Primary Election and your support will be appreciated.

DOOR PRIZE!

TO THE CITIZENS OF GARRETT COUNTY:

I am seeking the support of our Republican voters at the Primary Election to be held on May 15. If nominated, and later elected, to the office of County Commissioner I hope to be able to perform a useful service to all our citizens.

I decided to become a candidate for this office, because, like many other citizens, I have been dissatisfied with the un-necessary spending of the public money which has resulted in heavy debts, and the highest taxes in our history.

The debt in our County Roads Department which will amount to over $1,300,000.00 at the end of this year is a striking example of where the policy of "borrow and spend" is leading us. A large portion of our annual gasoline tax receipts has been pledged for many years in the future, to repay the debt and interest. Yet, the need for maintenance and improvement of our county roads, and the need for snow removal, is just as pressing today, as it was when the borrowing first began, just eight years ago.

I believe that this policy of debt, and high taxes must be reversed now. Otherwise we will have still more debt, and still higher taxes, and the majority of our citizens will be seriously hurt. The need for careful management, and sound policies is plain.

As a County Commissioner I would faithfully try to conserve the public money and use it to improve our necessary county services, and to reduce our debts, so that we may be able to get rid of some of the heavy interest charges which constitute a veritable MILL STONE about our necks.

I would hope that my two colleagues could agree to employ a qualified construction engineer to head our County Roads Department. There is a real need for an experienced engineer who will be able to carry out the policies of our County Commissioners on roads, with efficiency and economy.

When it is necessary to purchase heavy equipment for our roads I would agree to buy ONLY the equipment that is really needed, and that is of the size and build to do the jobs we have for it to do. I have had some experience in these matters. Also, I would insist that all equipment and supplies be bought at the lowest competitive prices.

I would keep the people fully informed about how their tax money is being expended. However, I would not want to waste the public money by having audits made of county records back of 1962, all reports to the contrary notwithstanding.

I believe we should make every reasonable effort to get a moderate sized manufacturing plant to come into our county in order to provide jobs for our unemployed men. To this end I would cooperate with any organization, and I would support a committee of sound business men who are genuinely interested in the economic growth of the county.

Finally, if I do become a County Commissioner, it would be my whole purpose to help establish a sound and efficient county government, free from bossism, favoritism, and waste. This is the only way in which we can hope to receive full benefit from our tax dollars. Our county has many problems with which I am familiar, and with which I believe I am equipped to deal.

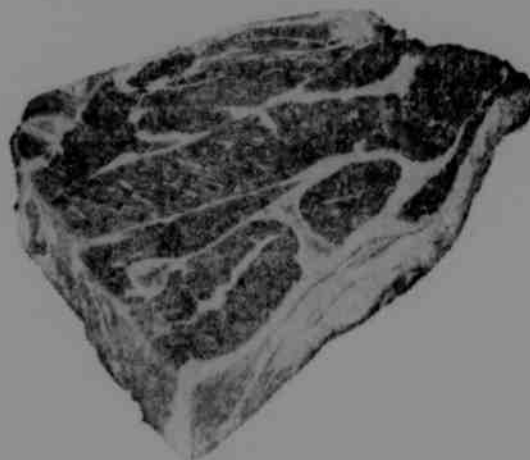

I respectfully ask for your most careful consideration at the Primary Election.

Spring Brings Termites To Area

"Spring is here and so are termites," says Ted L. Bissell, an extension entomologist, University of Maryland.

Describing termites, Mr. Bissell said the yellow, wingless ones are the workers while the big headed ones are the queens or soldiers. Both are year round soil and wood inhabitants. During spring dark bodied forms with silvery wings swarm to the light and establish new colonies in moist wood. These are male and female termites which lay eggs that produce more workers.

The steps to take, explained Mr. Bissell, are: verification and identification, study of publications available from your county agent about how termites work, examination of buildings for signs of termite activity, hollowed out beams, joists, tunnels and mounds of wood dust, and decide the best method of attacking the problem or call a reliable control operator.

The job of eradicating is not complete with just the removal of the termites," says Mr. Bissell, "but the damage must be repaired and the entrance for termites must be sealed. This job may be done by Mr. Homeowner, if he is handy with tools, or it may require a contractor or carpenter with tools and knowledge of the job."

CONTROL PANEL—James Lewis, water superintendent, is shown here before the control panel in Oakland's new water treatment plant. Visitors may inspect this part of the operation this weekend. This switchboard operates all pumps and mixers in the entire plant. There are some 45 motors and two compressors in operation at the treatment plant, some of them running 24 hours a day.

Successful eradication depends upon the reputation of the exterminator, where such work is contracted. It is important to plan carefully, not panic, because you will want to investigate firm offers of references, such as through the Better Business Bureau or County Agent, particularly check the responsibility of out-of-town firms. Any reliable firm will welcome reference checks. The National Pest Control association or state pest control association will confirm members in good standing in your area.

New Uniforms Shown

The Southern High band paraded in its new uniforms on the streets of Oakland yesterday morning. The uniforms arrived just too late to be worn by the members in the concert last Friday evening.

The uniforms were ordered early in March at a cost of $4,500. The Band Boosters have raised all but $1,200 of this amount and the club has arranged for a tag day on Saturday, May 19, in an endeavor to raise some additional money.

Church To Resume Services

The Oak Grove Methodist church which has been closed for several months will again be open for service.

Is Your Name O'BRIEN?

O'Brien is one of the most popular of Irish surnames. It is of relatively simple origin and significance. The latter is a personal name that is translated literally as "nobly born," and its first bearer of renown was Brian Boru, the famous Irish king who was killed at the battle of Clontarf where his national army defeated the Danes and terminated the Danish invasions of Ireland. The O'Briens were located to a considerable extent in the Province of Munster, and in the centuries following the death of King Brian they became the most powerful family in Ireland with substantial possessions in Limerick, Tipperary, Waterford and Clare Counties. The coat-of-arms of the O'Brien family bears the motto "The Strong Hand Uppermost." It should be noted that an interesting history of the O'Briens from Brian Boru to the year 1915 was compiled and published by the Hon. Donough O'Brien of London in 1949.

Among the patriots of Colonial days was Morris O'Brien, who was born in Dublin, Ireland, and was active in organizing the expedition which captured the ship "Margaretta" at Machias, Maine in 1775. Gideon O'Brien (1746-1827) served as a private in the Massachusetts troops during the Revolutionary War.

O'Brien County, Iowa, was named for William Smith O'Brien (1803-1864), the Irish patriot. George O'Brien served as trustee of School No. 4, Glendale, Garrett County, for the year ending May, 1922. At that time also Daniel O'Brien became a trustee of School No. 14, Meadow Mountain.

Dennis O'Brien (1837-1909) was Judge, Court of Appeals of the State of New York. Peter O'Brien (1842-1914) was Lord Chief Justice of Ireland.

John A. O'Brien is vice-president in charge of sales, Johns-Manville Corporation, with offices in New York City. George Francis O'Brien of Chicago is a distinguished physician and professor and chairman of the department of medicine, Loyola University School of Medicine, Chicago.

Albert James O'Brien is executive vice-president, Ralston Purina Company, St. Louis.

Former Student Has Unusual Telescope

Charles Knight, former Garrett county youngster, was one of two seniors at Stowe High school, McKees Rocks, Pa., who completed a unique science project that has caused much comment in that area.

Each year the science department of the high school sponsors a science fair and students exhibit projects from General Science, Biology, Chemistry and Physics classes. Each year there at least one or two unique projects.

This year Edward Crum and Charles Knight, two of the school's talented senior scientists entered a telescope for competition in the fair.

After designing the Newtonian Reflecting Telescope, work was started in the summer of 1961 and completed in February, 1962.

Grinding the optics, adjusting the equatorial mounting and construction took well over 200 hours. Testing and the advice of James Mullaney of the Allegheny Observatory improved the instru-

Six Are Apprehended For Motor Law Violations

Six persons were apprehended in recent days for alleged violations of the motor vehicle laws. The other charges were tried against two individuals but these were reported in previous issues.

The following were listed on the books of the Trial Magistrate, Robert M. Maroney.

Robert Ray Bickford, Swanton, pleaded guilty to a charge of operating with expired temporary registration and was fined $10 and costs.

Harry Bruce Simmons, Deer Park, pleaded guilty to a charge of exceeding 30 miles per hour in a speed zone and was fined $10 and costs.

Paul Junior Kirkpatrick, Weirton, W. Va., forfeited collateral of $10 and costs for a charge of operating an unregistered vehicle on the highway.

Robert Orr Weeks, Mt. Lake Park, forfeited collateral of $10 and costs on a charge of operating on expired registration. Melvin Jack Vormach pleaded guilty to the same charge and was fined $10 and costs.

Charles Lloyd Davis, Oakland, driver of the fire truck which sidement's optics.

A photographic guide scope for taking pictures and setting circles for easy finding of celestial objects put this instrument in scientific advancement. Knight ground his own lenses.

There is a large spherical mirror in the back of the telescope rather than a lens in front. The light from a distant object is taken down the telescope tube where it is gathered and reflected up to a smaller secondary mirror in the tube. This is where the light bends into the eyepiece and is magnified for observation. The telescope was on display in Stowe's laboratory on the day of the science fair.

The senior formerly attended Red House school where he represented the school in the spelling bee about four years ago. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Knight of McKees Rocks. Mr. Knight has been a Pennsylvania railroad engineer in that area for 25 years or more. Young Knight plans to enter the University of Pittsburgh in the fall. He has uncles and aunts in this area.

Would you cheat
this child?

Education is the greatest gift your state can give your child!

Maryland, governed by Tawes, has been cheating your children. Our state has the highest proportion of un-certified teachers of any in the Union. Why? Because Tawes has broken his word on salaries and starved the teacher training colleges.

Read what the April issue of "The Maryland Teacher," official publication of the Maryland State Teachers Association, has to say about the candidates for Governor.

On TAWES: "The governor's record is...a 'twist' record. It contains un-fulfilled and broken promises."

On MAHONEY: "...his record as a public servant is positive and clear of any criticism...He has promised...a minimum salary scale of $4,000-$6,000...extension of opportunities for higher education...and additional aid per pupil."

Give your child a chance at the future.

Elect the man who cares about better schools for a better Maryland!

Advised To Throw Back
Pike And Walleye

The State Game and Inland Fish commission is advising fishermen to throw back all the walleye and great northern pike if they want better fishing. Ernest A. Vaughn, director, said the great northern pike and walleye stockings were being carried out primarily to improve native Maryland species such as growth rate of crappie, largemouth and smallmouth bass, yellow perch and sunfish.

Research by fishery biologists indicate many of the major reservoirs are full of unwanted or undesirable species that are taking up living space and retarding growth rates.

Vaughn said if fishermen would forego the great temptation to catch these big predator junkies,

CAPITOL COMMENT

by Charles "Mac" Mathison
Congressman, 4th District, Maryland

The major action taken by the House of Representatives last week concerned the proposed communications satellite system. This fabulous space-age development will permit the human voice to be transmitted to all parts of the globe much more freely and effectively than is possible by the relatively few radio and television channels presently available.

There was no question but that the Congress favored the immediate utilization of the progress that can be made in developing and profiting from a communications satellite. This is of immense economic importance to the people of the United States and indeed to the people of all the Free World. Today, for instance, we are told that there are only about 100 telephone voice circuits between North America and Europe. This means that only about one hundred simultaneous telephone conversations can be going on between the United States and all the countries of Europe. In the event that the pressure of traffic required more circuits, people would simply have to wait their turn. If we can launch a communications satellite, and there is no question but that physically and scientifically we can do so, we can create 4000 telephone voice circuits from a single satellite. Radio messages will be beamed from the United States to the satellite and rebroadcast to the point of destination.

A television broadcast requires the power equivalent of 1000 telephone circuits. Thus, you see we only have, to date, the equivalent of 10 percent of the necessary power to transmit a television broadcast between the United States and Europe. With the communications satellite in operation, we will have not only enough power to broadcast two simultaneous television shows, which is of great importance to our international understanding and academic intellectual development, but in addition we could carry on another 2000 simultaneous telephone conversations which, of course, greatly expands our opportunity and our ability to communicate with the rest of the world. This is just an example and, of course, similar examples could be cited for all parts of the world, so that we are going to be able to communicate much more freely than we have ever imagined to be possible.

With all of these benefits, the question may arise in your mind, "What has the Congress been debating; why has there been any legal or legislative question about the communications satellite and its immediate development and operation?" There have been two questions: The first is the question of the ownership of the entity or the body that will operate the communications satellite system. Throughout the history of the United States, it has been traditional that communications facilities should be private enterprise facilities—that they should be owned by private business, although subject to some government regulation as to rates and services. The bill that the House of Representatives passed last week has incorporated this free enterprise principle into the communications satellite system.

Secondly, the question arose as to whether or not ownership, since

United in Marriage

Mr. and Mrs. Carleton I. Harvey, Jessups, announce the marriage of their daughter, Carolyn Yvonne, to Mayo Marvin Shreve, also of Jessups.

The wedding took place in the White Chapel Methodist church, on the Gorman-Steyer road, Thursday, May 5, at 7 p. m. (DST). The Rev. James Remley, pastor of the church, performed the ceremony.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was attired in a street-length dress of white nylon lace over taffeta. The dress was fashioned with a fitted bodice, scoop neckline, three-quarter sleeves with a full skirt topped by a set-in cummerbund. Her head-dress was a shoulder-length veil of white nylon tulle edged with lace and fastened to a cap of flower petals. Her jewelry was pearl earrings and choker.

She carried a white Bible topped with an orchid with streamers tied it is to be free enterprise ownership, should be limited to American companies currently operating in the international communications field or to be opened to the public at large. This was a hot debate, but, as many other legislative questions are resolved, it has been compromised so that the existing communications carriers will have an opportunity to invest as well as the public at large.

In the near future we will be gaining the benefits from this legislation. We will be having a communications satellite system which will be of immense value to all of the Free World.

Miss Delores Ann Harvey, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. She wore a light blue cotton dress featuring a square neck and full skirt overlaid with Schiffler embroidery.

Miss Charlotte Jean Harvey was her sister's bridesmaid and wore a pale blue dress of sheer batiste cotton with an eyelet-top and rounded neckline, above a full skirt with set-in cummerbund.

The girls wore matching hats and gloves and carried colonial bouquets of yellow carnations.

Robert Shreve, brother of the groom, was best man. Dale Mahaffey, cousin of the bride, served as usher.

Mrs. Helen Mahaffey, cousin of the bride, played the traditional wedding selections.

A three-tiered cake, topped with miniature bride and groom, centered the bride's table.

Mahoney will do more for Western Maryland recreation areas

Your problem: TAWES

1. Tawes has let $1,000,000 for State Forest and Park improvements lie idle—unused to help you in Western Maryland. Let's stop buying more land and improve what we have.
2. Tawes doubled charges for State park facilities—and thus cut tourist volume in half!
3. Tawes ignores the Master Plan for State Park Development, because he simply doesn't care.

Your answer: MAHONEY ...and here's why:

1. LEADERSHIP. George Mahoney stands for more capital investment to improve State Parks and attract new tourist dollars to Western Maryland.
2. FORESIGHT. George Mahoney stands for imaginative development of boating, swimming, fishing and camping areas, and other facilities—at right prices. "If you want more tourist dollars," Mahoney says, "give people more for their money. Don't charge double for nothing. And give them good roads to tour on."
3. ACTION. George Mahoney says: "Maryland State Parks have a Master Plan. We need to act on that Plan. I'll supply the action—as your Governor."

Dear Fellow Garrett Countians:

I am a candidate for Judge of the Circuit Court for Garrett County. The law permits a candidate for Judge of a Circuit Court to file with both parties; therefore, I consider it a distinct privilege and honor to run on both the Democratic and Republican tickets, and my name will appear on both ballots in the coming Primary Election, May 15th.

I am a native of Garrett County where I have resided all of my life, and am the third generation to appear on both ballots in the coming Primary Election, May 15th.

I am a native of Garrett County where I have resided all of my life, and am the third generation to appear on both ballots in the coming Primary Election, May 15th.

I have been a member of the Maryland Bar since 1941, and engaged in the general practice of law for the past sixteen years, during which time I have served as attorney to the Board of Education and the Board of County Commissioners. I was unanimously recommended for the Judgeship by the Fourth Judicial Circuit of Maryland and Maryland Bar Association Special Committee on Judicial Appointments.

I served my country during World War II from 1941 to 1945, and was overseas twice during that time, the last of which was served with the 87th Infantry Division under General Patton's Third Army in France, Belgium and Germany.

I am the chairman of Local Draft Board No. 47 and the Advisory Board of the Boys' Forestry Camps, having succeeded the late Honorable Judge Neil C. Frayer in those positions.

I have been a member of the past four years. I am a member of the Methodist Church in Oakland, having transferred from the former Presbyterian Church in Oakland, and am also a member of Proctor-Kindow Post No. 71, American Legion. I am married to the former Marjorie Bailey and we have three children.

The Juvenile Law of this State is of particular interest and concern to me, and if elected Judge I pledge to perform my duties in all of its phases to the best of my ability, with honesty, integrity and impartiality foremost in my mind.

Thank you for having taken the time to read this.

And three months running his herd was tops for Garrett County in DHIA average production! His January production was so high it also made him top man for the entire state! Russell Bowser has learned that cows make more milk on Southern States Feed.

Wild Turkeys Released

The State Game and Inland Fish commission field men have completed the release of wild turkeys, primarily in this county and also Allegany, Washington, Worcester and Somerset counties. It was announced. Some 511 birds were released.

Surveys during the past winter of wild turkeys and tracks showed good carry-over of birds in Garrett, Allegany and Washington counties. With a good nesting season this year, a fine crop of birds should be available for the October season, it was stated.

Sharp-Eyed Reader May Solve Mystery Of This Old Photo

Owned by Mrs. C. D. Bosley, it carries no date, nor is there an indication of the location, or the occasion which prompted the posing.

Some of those shown, the owner is certain, are W. H. Bartlett, who is standing in the door; Luther Brown, in front of Bartlett; Carl Brown, sitting on the left; C. D. Bosley, standing in the center of the group with Bob Townshend in front of him; Harry Hinebaugh, kneeling in the first row, fourth from left, with Frank Arnold above him, and William Whorton, also in the group.

Beyond these few identifications, it's entirely up to some reader to furnish more information. Because the photograph is unusually clear, it's entirely possible that someone will be able to supply more data—and if they do it will be shared with other interested "old photo" followers.

Plan Fire Convention

Hymn Sing Scheduled

BERNARD M. GUY

BLOOMINGTON, MD.

Democratic Candidate For Nomination For County Commissioner

Commissioner District I

Having come to Garrett County thirty years ago from Baltimore, and having been engaged in public business and a property owner since 1937, I am well known to many of the people of the County. I married the former Lola Pattison of Bloomington and have one daughter. I have been a member of many civic groups such as Farm Bureau, P. T. A., American Legion, Volunteer Firemen, Western Maryland Builders' Association and National Builders' Association. I am a Veteran of World War II.

I am presently associated with Charles Pattison in the Pattison and Guy Construction Co. of Bloomington. Having had experience in Deep Mining, Strip Mining, Farming, Real Estate, Home Building and Land Developing, I feel I would be qualified to handle many of the County's problems most economically.

I am in favor of continued improvement in the Departments of Education, Roads, Agriculture and Health. I feel there is an urgent need to encourage new industry to locate in Garrett County to provide more job opportunities. We must hold our standards with those of neighboring counties and states to discourage outer migration, especially our young people, the citizens of tomorrow. Garrett County is most fortunate to have natural resources for industry and year-round recreation, which need only efficient planning and developing. This is an obligation of every citizen of Garrett County.

During my recent campaign I have tried to visit every section of the County. I am most grateful for the fine reception I have received everywhere. I feel we all owe many thanks to The Federation of Democratic Women for their interest in organizing "Meet Your Candidate" meetings in various localities.

If nominated and elected I will give my wholehearted support to a better and more prosperous county.

Your influence and support will be greatly appreciated in the Primary Election, May 15.

TO THE CITIZENS OF GARRETT COUNTY

Within the next few days (May 15th) you will be going to the polls to register your preference for candidates, which candidates will stand for election come next November.

I believe it to be your desire to nominate candidates whom you feel to be best QUALIFIED to fill the various offices.

I entered this campaign because I felt my record of six years of public service as Mayor of Oakland qualifies me as an EXPERIENCED and PROGRESSIVE public servant. I believe all will agree that Oakland has moved rapidly ahead under my administrations as Mayor. The town is in splendid financial and physical condition. I have conducted the business of Oakland both progressively and economically. I have a record of things accomplished in the public interest and it is on this record that I earnestly ask you to give thoughtful consideration to my candidacy. I feel I can ably represent Garrett County in the State Senate at Annapolis.

We badly need and must have a smashing Republican victory in Garrett County next November. Help me to bring this about. Thank you.

Respectfully,

Vote For... STOVER for JUDGE

To the Voters of Garrett County:

The Constitution of Maryland, Article IV, Section 2 provides that the Judges of the Circuit Courts of this State shall be selected from those who have been admitted to practice law in this State, and "who are most distinguished for integrity, wisdom and sound legal knowledge."

When the vacancy occurred for a Judge in the Circuit Court in this County, I was recommended for the appointment as Judge by the Garrett County Bar Association, and by a Special Committee of the Fourth Judicial Circuit of the Maryland Bar Association on Judicial Appointments. I was also recommended for appointment by the Maryland Bar Association Committee on Judicial Appointments.

I have practiced law continuously in this County since May, 1946. By reason of this continuous practice, I have gained wide experience in the Criminal Court, the Juvenile Court, the Civil Court, the Equity Court and the Orphans' Court. The records in the Office of the Clerk of the Circuit Court for Garrett County, Maryland, will show that the number and variety of cases I have handled and tried far exceed my opposition.

There is no substitute for experience in assessing the qualifications of a candidate for the position of Judge. Experience obtained in the trial of cases is an invaluable asset to a jurist. My experience as the State's Attorney of our County and the great number of cases I have handled and tried in the Circuit Court for Garrett County, Maryland, sitting as a Criminal Court, as a Civil Court, as an Equity Court and as a Juvenile Court, is second to none as shown by the records.

Under the provisions of Section 60 of Article 33 of the Annotated Code of Maryland, candidates for the office of Judge are permitted to file in both the Republican and Democratic primaries. Accordingly, I have filed in both primaries.

I believe that the voters of Garrett County are interested in having an experienced lawyer as their judge. Therefore, based upon the recommendations of the Garrett County Bar Association and the Maryland Bar Association and from the experience I have gained as a practicing lawyer and prosecutor, I am soliciting the support of both the Republican and Democratic voters in the primary to be held on Tuesday, May 15th.

Sincerely yours,

W. Dwight Storer

VOTE

I urge all registered voters regardless of party affiliation to exercise their constitutional right to vote in the Primary Election on this coming Tuesday. When people of a free country fail to vote for the most qualified candidates, the rights and freedoms which they have are very often lost. Once these freedoms are lost you can never vote for their return.

Before casting your vote you should examine the qualifications of the candidates for all of the offices and then vote for that candidate which you think would do more for the welfare of the County and State. If you feel that I am the most qualified candidate for Circuit Court Judge you should cast your ballot for me.

If nominated and elected I will do all in my power to administer the law in a fair and impartial manner.

Mahoney

is the man for

Western Maryland

George Mahoney wants these things for you:

1 GOOD ROADS. Present highways handicap Western Maryland. Route 40 is a disgrace. Route 70 is lost because Tawes failed to act. Western Maryland must have modern highways to attract new factories.

2 NEW INDUSTRY . . . NEW JOBS. Unemployment hurts Western Maryland. In the past two years of Do-Nothing Tawes, 2000 Maryland breadwinners a month have exhausted their unemployment benefits. In Hagerstown, alone, 7500 jobs have disappeared. New industry of all kinds must be started up in Western Maryland along new highways.

IT ADDS UP TO THIS: Good roads bring new industry, and new industry brings more and better jobs for Western Maryland breadwinners. That is George Mahoney's plan for you and your family.

Mahoney is the man for you: A successful road builder and business man who gets things done—as he has proven all his life.

1360 Congress Street, SE, Apt. 202

No. 5142 Equity in The Circuit Court for Garrett County, Maryland.

Order of Publication

The object of the Bill of Complaint is to procure a divorce a vinculo Matrimonii by the Complainant, Thomas William Nedrow, from the Respondent, Mary Genella Nedrow.

The Bill recites that the marriage took place August 17, 1950, in Baltimore, Maryland, by religious ceremony; that Complainant has been a resident of Garrett County, Maryland, more than one year immediately prior hereto; that there are three children born to the parties hereto as a result of the said marriage, namely, Debra, age eight years, Linda, age six years, who are now in the custody of your Complainant; and Barbara, age three years, who is now in the custody of the Respondent; that Complainant has conducted himself as a good, kind and affectionate husband since marriage aforesaid; that Respondent, without just cause, abandoned and deserted Complainant more than eighteen months immediately prior hereto; that such abandonment has continued uninterruptedly since the date it began, is deliberate and final, and is without any hope of reconciliation.

It is thereupon, by the Circuit Court for Garrett County, this 27th day of April, 1962, ORDERED: That the Complainant, Thomas William Nedrow, by causing a copy of this Order to be inserted in some newspaper published in Garrett County, Maryland, once in each of four consecutive weeks before the 25th day of May, 1962, giving notice to the said absent Respondent of the object and substance of this Bill, and warning her to be and appear in this Honorable Court, either in person or by a solicitor, on or before the 9th day of June, 1962, to show cause, if any she may have, why a Decree should not be passed as prayed.

PUSH LEVER 5A

VOTE FOR
DAVID HUME

Democratic Candidate for Governor

"He is a man of high principle, an eminent conservationist, a lawyer of broad experience, a leader in many civic causes, and a political campaigner of proved ability."

Washington Post

"He (Mahoney) is as unwilling as the Governor to challenge the slot machine lobby in a legislative battle to uproot the devices from the four Southern Maryland counties they still infest. Both men are wrong. The right side is supported by . . . David Hume, who perceives more clearly the States responsibility."

Baltimore Evening Sun

"Observers tend to sell Hume short around the State, but his star should rise as he becomes more known . . ."

Lexington Park Enterprise

"He is possessed of brilliant intellect, unbounding energy, an unquenchable thirst for knowledge and evident ambition for public service. Add to these characteristics his demonstrated courage in being forthright on public issues . . ."

La Plata Times Crescent

"If David Hume could talk personally with every Democratic voter we do not believe there would be any doubt about the outcome of the Democratic Primary next spring."

Wick Byron

"It's Hume's caring for how people live, what they live on, and what their opportunities are that mark him!"

Montgomery County Sentinel

"He is a good fighter in his own right, capable of taking on powerful forces . . ."

Cambridge Banner

Here is a new face—a new candidate—a new courage—and a new thinking. Here too is an old philosophy which your fathers would have recognized: HERE IS A MAN WHO KEEPS HIS WORD!

HUME CARES! DO YOU?

Airport Dedication Delayed by Weather

The formal dedication and official opening of the Garrett County airport near McHenry were delayed by inclement weather and the new date had not been definitely set up to this morning.

Heavy fog and cold, disagreeable temperature caused the ceremonies to be delayed. None of the state and federal aviation officials was able to get to Oakland, and state officials were unable to make it.

Governor J. Millard Tawes had planned to be present.

The new date will be set by the aviation officials and Carl Schell, president of the County Commissioners, said he had received no further word.

In the meantime the airport is not officially open and has not been officially accepted by the county. Any planes that land on the airport do so at their own risk, Schell said.

White Rock-Oakland Remain In 1st Place

Lefty Mervin Slagle pitched a no-hitter game Sunday as White Rock defeated Crellin in the opener of a twin bill in the Town and Country Softball league by the score of 7-2.

Oakland took a doubleheader from Mt. Storm 3-2 in eight innings and 15-7, and remained tied with White Rock for first place, each team having 10 records.

George Stewart and Irving Wolf were Oakland's winning pitchers and the Colaw brothers Fred and Dennis, smacked homers in the second game.

Loch Lynn, beaten twice last week, came back to register a double win over the National Guard, 10-9 and 7-6. Swallow Falls downed its batting togs and after outslugging Kitmiller in the opener 25 to 17, also grabbed the nightcap by the score of 11-1.

Tawes Is Victor; Small Takes GOP

J. Millard Tawes was the Democratic nominee for a second term as governor of Maryland although he pulled less than 45 percent of the votes cast in an unexpected three-way race.

David Hume, political novice, staged a run that pulled the rug out from under George P. Mahoney who went down to his sixth straight defeat for either governor or U. S. Senator. There were seven candidates in all.

Tawes collected 100 of the total 152 unit votes which are allotted according to representation in the legislature. Mahoney had 32 and Hume 21.

Carlton R. Sickles upset House of Delegates Speaker Perry O. Wilkinson in the Democratic race for congressman at large. He nailed down a 90-72 unit vote edge over his fellow delegate.

Tawes carried 19 of the 23 counties and two of Baltimore's six districts. Mahoney led in only one county and the three others were taken by Hume.

Democratic contestant for U. S. Senate seat being relinquished by Republican John Marshall Butler will be Daniel Brewster.

Returns showed that Edward Miller, once a congressman for six straight terms, led James P. Gleason 29,146 to 33,147 in the popular vote for nomination as U. S. Senator on the Republican ticket, and 89 to 69 in the unit vote.

GOP leadership's choice for governor, Frank Small, Jr., was an easy winner over two relatively unknown rivals. Small, a former congressman, polled 63,312 popular votes to 10,126 for the runner-up.

In Garrett county's primary returns Small had a vote of 1907 compared to 329 for Joe Pavlock and 247 for Mrs. Karla Balentine. James Gleason was an easy winner in Garrett with 1462 votes, while Miller received 793. Henry Laque 114 and Harry L. Simms 404.

On the Democratic slate Brewster won out over Blair Lee 574 to 500 while three other candidates received lesser amounts.

Tawes had a struggle to carry the county against Mahoney 906 to 873, but Mahoney carried the county in previous elections.

Frantz, as she deposits some trash in one of the sixteen new containers recently purchased by the Mayor and Town Council of Oakland in an effort to "keep Oakland beautiful." These new containers are attached to parking meters in various parts of the town. They replace the waste cans that formerly were parked on the streets. The new receptacles will be emptied each day by the street cleaner. SENATE CLOAKROOM

By Sen. J. Glenn Beall (R., Md.)

The People Are Against The Kennedy Program. If the rest of the American people are like Marylanders, and I believe they are, then grass-roots America is unalterably opposed to most of the Kennedy Administration program. This is what the returns from our questionnaire show us.

The people are dead set against self-care-stateism. They say in a loud voice (88% to 5%), "Cut out the spending programs!" The people reject the President's "medicare" plan (72% to 15%); they apparently have come to realize that it would not do what is claimed for it, that it is, therefore, a cruel hoax on the older people, and that, furthermore, it's unsound. The people voted 18% for and 70% against so-called "Federal Aid to Education"; again, the people refuse to be fooled by propaganda; they realize they cannot get something-for-nothing, that, in the end, they would have to pay double for whatever "aid" their schools would get from Washington. And the people show just what they think of the farm-control program by voting 1% for and 83% against President Kennedy's plan to put more commodities under Federal control.

The people are overwhelmingly against regimentation—the concept which seems to be at the bottom of every Kennedy Administration proposal. Grass-roots America has awakened to the danger of dictatorship. Every Administration proposal to Congress would build up the President's powers, and the people sense the significance of this.

The people are deeply concerned about the advance of World Communism. They are against recognition of the Red regime in China (81% to 7%). They would quit giving financial aid to the so-called "neutral" countries (81% to 9%).

INSPECT VACATION GUIDE—Senator Jennings Randolph, W. Va.; Mrs. Patricia H. Kittle, Deep Creek Lake-Garrett County Promotion Council, and Voit Gilmore, Director, U. S. Travel Service, look over the 1962 Garrett County Vacation Guide. Mr. Gilmore was the main speaker at the West Virginia Travel Clinic held recently at Blackwater Lodge.

and deepening the Baltimore Harbor channels, to make it possible to handle the larger modern cargo ships. I also asked that the President's request for funds for the Chesapeake and Delaware Canal project be doubled. The President had asked only $5,000,000 for the coming year's work of removing hazards to ships on the Canal, while Baltimore Port interests, the Army Corps of Engineers and other experts say that $10,000,000 is the amount needed for an efficient job.

"The Goose That Lays The Golden Eggs"—Business today is shaken, apprehensive, and deeply concerned about the future. President Kennedy's victory over the steel industry has complicated the economic picture because it has left all business uneasy about new investment and uncertain as to where the money can come from. It will be a hollow victory indeed for the Administration until it finds a way of stimulating economic growth. If the Administration is not to kill "the goose that lays the golden eggs", then it must give business the means and the will to make ever heavier investments in new and more efficient equipment.

There is one approach that could restore profits to a level that would encourage new investment, tax revision. The punitive and repressive tax system that now burdens the U. S. economy is a deadly drag on expansion and a constant threat to economic stability. President Kennedy's continued attempt to press his own version of tax reform is one of the things that has undermined business confidence. The most constructive approach to further the hopes for growth and economic stability would be to abandon the Administration's gimmick-ridden tax bill.

We desire to express our sincere thanks and appreciation to all our friends and neighbors for their kindness and helpfulness during the illness and following the death of our mother, the late Mrs. Stella Croso Lichner.

and put through a genuine top-to-bottom reform.

Oh, Those Hikers!—Hiker Extraordinary William O. Douglas, U. S. Supreme Court Justice, made his annual Chesapeake and Ohio Canal hike last week, and so did about 100 others. This has become an established annual affair. Every year for the past eight years, the mountain-climbing Justice has hiked along some segment of the 185-mile canal between Cumberland, Maryland, and Washington, D. C. Justice Douglas agrees with the position of those of us who have taken legislative steps to establish the C. & O. Canal as a national park to preserve the wild, life and unspoiled beauty of the historic canal—and the Justice has emphasized his interest by making the annual hikes, now joined in by numerous individuals who like to walk. On one occasion, to prove the desirability of retaining the rustic beauty of the canal, Justice Douglas challenged newsmen in Washington to walk with him to Cumberland Pines and even banquets at some points along the route have become standard adjuncts of the unique annual observance.

Unbiased, Of Course!—Senators and Congressmen, who, because of the pressure of legislative duties and the limit of time, require help in preparing their newsletters, are now told they can relax and handle the matter over to the State Department. From that omnipotent Department has come the handy new offer to supply prewritten statements on foreign affairs and foreign policy for use in newsletters. Naturally, says the State Department, these prepackaged releases would be unbiased, not to mention nonpartisan.

You bet!

IN REMEMBRANCE

of our beloved husband and father, the late John B. Friend, Sr., who departed this life one year ago, May 18, 1961.

Who Can Know? But one who's passed Thru the valley dark and drear. The pain, the sorrow, multiplied And deeply etched with fear. Who can know? How many times That lonely one crept Into a place of quietness, And to the Master wept.

We say we know, but 'tis not so. For have we really known? I think not, for we cannot, 'Till we pass that way alone. Who can know? There's only one Who understands our grief, And who gives us sweet relief. We miss you here, we miss you there, And oh! We miss you everywhere. His Wife and Children. —Adv. 12-11.

Bloomington Dam Given Top Priority

A large dam on the North Branch of the Potomac river near Bloomington, was given top priority in a new long range half-billion dollar proposal for developing water resources of the Potomac River basin by Army engineers in Washington.

Construction of the $51 million dam was recommended as soon as possible. Building of other dams is not proposed before 1964.

Recommendations call for eventual construction of 16 major reservoirs and 418 smaller reservoirs. The program would be designed primarily for flood control and to meet requirements until year 2010 of Washington, D. C., and other Potomac basin communities in four states.

Nine reservoirs would be constructed within the next 15 years. Authorization would be sought for protection of seven sites for other proposed major dams.

Biggest of the dams would be at Seneca, a few miles upstream from Great Falls, 84 feet high but some 30 feet lower than the dam originally proposed at River Bend. Recommendations include: Royal Glen, south branch of Potomac, upstream from Petersburg, 1964; Savage II, Savage river, upstream from existing Savage river reservoir, later 1966; Mount Storm, Stony River near U. S. 50 highway bridge, late 1969.

Col. Warren B. Johnson, district engineer, emphasized that even with eventual construction of all dams the area could be assured of adequate water supplies only if there are sewage treatment plants installed to treat between 80 and 90 percent of the waste which flows into the river.

He noted that Potomac valley population now is about 3 million, by 1985 will be nearly 5 million and by 2010 will reach more than 7 million. Reservoir storage for flood control is planned only for Bloomington, Royal Glen, Seneca and Mt. Storm projects.

The recommendations also include three small local flood control projects with levees, flood walls and channel improvements, at Bayard and Keyser, W. Va., and Kitzmiller, which already have been authorized. Public hearings are to be arranged.

Highlanders Trim Keyser Nine, 6-5

Coach Tom Kuhn's Highlanders of Southern became a definite threat in the race for the championship of the Potomac Valley conference when they defeated Keyser High school last Thursday at Oakland 6 to 5.

The win was the second straight for Southern and the Highlanders have six more games on their league schedule, including a return game at Keyser today.

Jim Finch went the route for Southern, scattered six hits, issued eight passes and fanned seven to register his second triumph of the campaign.

Trailing 5 to 3 Southern won the game with a three-run rally in the fifth inning. Frank Finch singled, Clark Sharpless was safe on an error and Ron Watring walked to fill the bases. Jim Slaughter, who relieved Terry Turbin for Keyser, was greeted by Ed Bateman's two-run single and Ron Watring raced home later on a wild pitch by Slaughter.

Southern collected 10 hits, including two doubles and a single by Dick Gnezy. Shortstop Frank Finch and Ed Bateman garnered two hits each and the latter batted in three runs.

Southern and Beall High of Frostburg were tied for first place in the league with two victories each and no losses. Beall, however, plays only two games, not enough to qualify for the championship.

Promotion Council Notes

The Board of Directors of the Deep Creek Lake-Garrett County Promotion Council, Inc., will meet at 8 p. m., Thursday, May 24, in Room 201, First National Bank Building.

Having received widespread publicity in the tri-state area, the Promotion Council's fishing contest officially opened May 15. The rules are simple: Fish must be taken in Garrett county waters. Anyone of any age is eligible to participate. Measuring of fish shall be tip of nose to tip of tail. Fish must be registered at an official registration station, Johnny's Bait House, Deep Creek Lake, and Davis Hardware company, Grantsville. Weekly winners will receive an official fisherman's card with a silver dollar given by the Garrett National Bank.

Publicity taken from Promotion Council releases appeared in 16 area newspapers within the past 10 days. As a result, requests for the Vacation Guide are pouring into the council office. WQED-TV, Pittsburgh's educational television channel, will feature Garrett county recreational features on its vacation series, "Tourguide," on June 13. Gilbert Love, Pittsburgh Press Travel Editor, is program consultant. Mr. Love was a panel member at the recent West Virginia Travel Clinic held at Blackwater Falls. In his opening remarks to the clinic audience, the well-known columnist mentioned Garrett county's new airport.

Its reliability is probably its greatest single asset

When you build a quality truck, the inclination is to run around asking users what they think of it. We do quite a bit of this.

It's a funny thing. You'd think people would talk mostly about the mechanical features of the vehicle—the good ride, its power, the double-wall construction, cab comfort, or tough tailgate.

These things get comment, of course, but they're consistently outnumbered by expressions of satisfaction with the dependability of a Chevrolet truck. Its greatest single asset seems to be the fact that it does its job well day after day without a lot of fuss or attention—and that's what impresses people the most.

Quality is the key to reliability. The next time you have to buy a truck, call your Chevrolet dealer and make your money go farther.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor in the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

The traditions of America are inseparably linked with religion, and the Church has been the most powerful factor in our national life. Its faith has inspired our highest achievements.

The influence of religion has sanctified our homes and fostered in them the solid virtues and strong faith which have molded our national character and shaped our course in world history.

Our public school system is the outgrowth of religious zeal and the desire of the Church to spread enlightenment among the people. It has invoked blessings on those who train our youth.

The home, the school, and the Church—these are the great triumvirate whose faithful and tireless efforts have made America the most favored land on earth. They are the pillars of our strength, the foundation of our hope.

Let us cling to these elements of national strength—make our homes the abode of happiness; make our schools centers of light and knowledge; and make God our guide as we move into the untrod future.

Day of the Lord

Lesson for May 20, 1962

THESE lines are typed in faith. There is perhaps no more than an even probability that they will ever be printed. What with all the preparations for total destruction which are being made in Russia and America, and all the ways in which a war (again one of total destruction) can be started by sheer accident, one chilling sentence from 1 Peter seems to fit the situation. The end of all things is at hand.

Yet it is possible that these lines will be printed; and if the world lasts that long, we may be thankful. But if the world continues, fear will continue too, and crisis will follow crisis as far as eye can see. People will be asking, as they are asking now: Is this the end of the world?

No time-tables. We should remember that while an atomic catastrophe (you could not call it war) might well mean the end of the United States, the end of Russia and of Europe, the end of all we know as civilization, and the plunging of the rest of the race back into darkest barbarism—that is still not the clean sweep to which the Bible looks forward. Second Peter and Jude, for instance, both picture a total destruction not only of the human race in its present form, but of the earth itself. By comparison with that, the disappearance of a civilization is a slight affair.

Now the writers of the New Testament, if you could have said to them, "It looks as if civilization is on its last legs," would have said, "Of course that's true." But they would not have fretted or feared for a moment. When the End came, most people would be terrified; but they did not expect Christians to be afraid. On the other hand, the early Christian apostles and teachers rejoiced in looking forward to the Last Day, a day so all-important that they sometimes called it simply "The Day." However, no New Testament writer tried to set up a time-table. They did expect it in their lifetime, at first, but later books (2 Timothy for example) show that they realized the Day would probably not come while they lived. They left the WHEN to God.

What sort of person? We catch glimpses, in various parts of the New Testament, of various ways people reacted to the likelihood of an approaching End of All Things. Some screamed for hills to cover them (how modern that sounds!), some gave up all ordinary business and spent their time just talking about the future, and also vice versa.

The New Testament but other people) painfully tried to piece together mysterious prophecies from the Old Testament so as to predict the very time. Second Peter warns against too much calculation. The Lord's clocks and calendars are not geared to ours; a thousand years to us may be a day to him, and also vice versa. It may be later than we think, or earlier, we don't know. However, 2 Peter has no hesitation about predicting the End. You might almost think he could see the nuclear cataclysm: "The heavens will pass away with a loud noise, and the elements will be dissolved with fire, and the earth, and the works upon it, will be burned up." But now see how he goes on from there. Since these things are so, "what sort of persons ought you to be?" The end of all that we know about will not be the end of us. Death is a deceiver even when millions die at one moment.

The writer, Jude, who also has some pretty grim things to say about the End, concludes his short letter with a beautiful benediction. In one sentence he sums up the Christian attitude toward destiny. First, it is in God's hands, and we should not forget this. Second, God will keep his people—not necessarily from danger or suffering, but from "falling" into sin or despair. And most of all, Jude wants his readers to keep their minds on God and remember who he is; the only God, who saves us through Christ our Lord; the eternal God, whose kingdom and whose authority will not end when this little planet has vanished. Thinking of ourselves, we may well tremble; thinking of Him, our hearts are strong with hope.

"WE CHANGED TO GAS HEAT as soon as Gas was available. Two years of electric heat was enough for us," say Mr. and Mrs. Victor W. Patti, Freedom, Pa.

Gas heat first choice—Gas was not available when the Pattis built in 1959. "We thought we'd try electric heat," says Mr. Patti. "It taught us a lot about heating."

Electric . . . $459.89 for just one year! The Pattis moved into their new 1 1/2-story brick home in August, 1959. It contains 1,518 square feet of living area and was built to electric heat standards (full insulation, storm doors and windows). The total cost for heating, cooking, water heating, clothes drying and other electricity from August 26, 1959, to September 2, 1960, was a staggering $459.89. And the basement wasn't even heated! Electric heat supplemented—to reduce electric costs, Mr. Patti installed an oil heater in the unheated basement at the start of the 1960 heating season. Says Mr. Patti, "We were able to reduce costs. However, the cost of oil made up the difference so there really was no saving at all. But at least the basement was heated and usable."

Fresh air Gas heat is clean—Mrs. Patti states, "With Gas heat, cigarette smoke and cooking odors don't linger as they do with electric heat. The rooms stay fresh, clean—not stale and stuffy as with electric heat."

Gas far more economical—"Our previous home was a large frame house not nearly as well insulated," says Mr. Patti. "But we never had a Gas bill that came anywhere close to the electric bills we've paid in the new house. We're sure glad to get back to Gas heat."

When you build or buy—live modern for less with Gas! *Recorded from actual electric bills.

Highlanders Jolted Out of First Place

Fort Ashby's Highlanders jolted the Highlanders out of the number one position in the Potomac Valley conference by staging a last ditch rally Tuesday afternoon that produced three runs in the final frame for a final score of 5 to 4.

Singles by Weaver and Hoyer, coupled with Baldwin's fielder's choice, a wild throw and an error enabled the Eagles to score their come-from-behind victory.

Jim Hoyer went all the way for Fort Ashby, held Southern to a pair of singles and struck out ten batters. Iner and Hoyer accounted for four of the winning team's seven hits.

Paw Paw defeated Keyser High 9 to 2 and Mathias took over first.

No. 5142 Equity in The Circuit Court for Garrett County, Maryland.

Order of Publication

The object of the Bill of Complaint is to procure a divorce a vinculo Matrimonii by the Complainant, Thomas William Nedrow, from the Respondent, Mary Genella Nedrow.

The Bill recites that the marriage took place August 17, 1950, in Baltimore, Maryland, by religious ceremony; that Complainant has been a resident of Garrett County, Maryland, more than one year immediately prior hereto; that there are three children born to the parties hereto as a result of the said marriage, namely, Debra, age eight years; Linda, age six years; who are now in the custody of your Complainant; and Barbara, age three years, who is now in the custody of the Respondent; that Complainant has conducted himself as a good, kind and affectionate husband since marriage aforesaid; that Respondent, without just cause, abandoned and deserted Complainant more than eighteen months immediately prior hereto; that such abandonment has continued uninterruptedly since the date it began, is deliberate and final, and is without any hope of reconciliation.

It is thereupon by the Circuit Court for Garrett County this 27th day of April, 1962, ORDERED: That the Complainant, Thomas William Nedrow, by causing a copy of this Order to be inserted in some newspaper published in Garrett County, Maryland, once in each of four consecutive weeks before the 20th day of May, 1962, giving notice to the said absent Respondent of the object and substance of this Bill, and warning her to be and appear in this Honorable Court, either in person or by a solicitor, on or before the 30th day of June, 1962, to show cause, if any she may have, why a Decree should not be passed as prayed.

Every Litter Bit Hurts . . .

"Every Litter Bit Hurts." This is the slogan for a new campaign to keep Maryland, America, and particularly Garrett county beautiful.

The job was made much easier for Oakland last week, when the town council provided sixteen new and attractive trash cans. They were attached to the parking meter posts in various parts of the business district.

It is already evident that many people who see these litter cans are inclined to place their waste paper in them, but there is still an educational program to be carried on. There seem to be those people who will toss a candy wrapper to the street while staring straight at the litter can. We can help these people by suggesting that they use the litter cans.

Let's see what we can do to help. Don't be a litterbug yourself, and teach the other person not to be one. Don't leave a litter can in your favorite park, on the streets, or on the highways. Just put every bit in the nearest litter basket, or take trash with you to the litterbag in your own automobile. That's how you can help keep streets, playgrounds, highways, waterways always litter-free. That's how you can help cut the high cost of littering. It took $50 million last year just to clean up major highways.

Remember, just as every litter bit hurts when it's tumbling free—every litter bit helps when you land it in the litter basket.

Motorist Is Given Eighteen Months For Manslaughter

John J. Clancy, 27, of Philadelphia, was sentenced to serve 18 months in the House of Correction Monday, after pleading guilty to a charge of manslaughter by motor vehicle following a two-car collision near Grantsville on April 28.

The hearing was before Trial Magistrate Robert M. Maroney, Oakland.

Clancy had been hospitalized as a result of the accident. Samuel B. Gromer, 15, of Silver Spring, died of injuries sustained in the accident. His father, Jonathan B. Gromer, 50, driver of one of the cars, was seriously injured.

Clancy was scheduled to be taken to the House of Correction this week by James Frantz, sheriff.

State Police said they had notified Virginia authorities that Clancy had been sentenced to the Maryland institution. They indicated that Virginia police were seeking Clancy on a charge of grand larceny since the car he was driving at the time of the accident was reported to have been stolen in Richmond.

Testifying in the hearing Monday was State Trooper R. B. Cave, and T. Donald Wade who investigated the accident on U. S. route 40, west of Grantsville.

Prior to the accident Trooper Cave had noticed Clancy driving north on 219, near Keyser Ridge, in a reckless manner and at a high rate of speed, as he was enroute to his home at Accident. He gave chase. Clancy failed to stop at the Keyser Ridge intersection and continued east. He failed to negotiate a sharp left curve, ran off the shoulder of the highway, skidded back across the road and rammed head-on into the Gromer car.

Mark Moon Nosed Out In Official Election Figures

No Other Changes Made In Either Republican Or Democratic Ballots

Official election returns brought only one change in nominations, but reduced the totals of several contestants. Absence ballots, however, increased the totals for most candidates.

Ellsworth Moon, incumbent member of the Orphans court, running for re-nomination on the Republican ticket, who apparently was eliminated in the unofficial returns, passed his opponent, Mark H. Moon, in the official figures and became the third man on the ticket. There was no change in the standing of R. C. Turney and Truman C. Bittinger, who were high and second high on the ballot for that position. Final tally for Ellsworth G. Moon was 1584 compared to 1589 for Mark H. Moon.

There was a discrepancy of forty on the Grantsville count, being 65 instead of 105. Both voting machines were double checked and the count showed 33 on one machine and 32 on another machine for Mark H. Moon.

Largest number of absentee votes on the Republican ticket was 21 while highest on the Democratic ticket was 26.

Kight Knows Cost Of Lightning Bolt

If you want to know what a bolt of lightning costs, just ask Melvin Kight. He had occasion to learn after lightning knocked out the vacuum motor on his pressing machine at his cleaning and pressing shop on Center street Saturday afternoon during a sharp electrical storm.

Kight was standing by the machine as was Irvin R. Rudy, Jr., but no shock was felt. They were standing on a rubber pad.

An investigation by an electrician revealed that the motor parts had been welded into one entire mass. A new motor costs $225, plus installation.

The week's weather has been mostly hot with temperatures in the 80's except Monday and Tuesday when the mercury was in the 70's. A light rain fell briefly on Monday.

There were scattered hail storms along with the electric storm on Saturday afternoon. Mt. Lake Park getting the heaviest with pellets as big as aspirin tablets.

Yesterday added two more bits to the week's weather story with the temperature reaching the early 90's late in the afternoon, followed by another electrical storm in the evening. Rain continued to fall throughout most of the night, with the lightning remaining fairly sharp but apparently not close enough to strike.

Explosion Probed At Grantsville

Blast Believed Connected With Pulpwood Dispute; Homes Damaged

State Police continued their investigation of a dynamite blast, early Friday morning in Grantsville in which a man was nearly blown up and five houses and a store were damaged.

The blast is believed to be connected with the dispute between the Tri-State Pulpwood Cooperative association and the West Virginia Pulp and Paper company, since the bundle of dynamite went off near a parked pulpwood truck owned by Ray Lohr.

Sgt. Harry S. Bosley of the State Police, said Ivan Miller, custodian-manager of the American Legion home in Grantsville, was enroute home about 2:15 a. m. when he noticed the bundle of dynamite in the middle of the main street (U. S. route 40).

Mr. Miller ran from the scene and was uninjured, but several houses and a nearby store were damaged. The home of Ray Lohr received glass, paint, roof and plaster damage from the explosion. Blacktop on the highway also was damaged.

Police said the parked pulpwood truck had been used three times during the week to haul wood to the Luke mill. Mr. Lohr is not a member of the pulpwood association; it was reported.

Sgt. Bosley said a truck driver reported he had passed over the (Continued on Page Four)

Sometimes Life Gets Unusually Irritating

Every now and then life gets tedious, little things pile up, and occasionally you'd be better off if you'd stayed in bed.

Yesterday morning started off bright and clean with Ed Helbig. He had two beautiful Holstein heifers and a bull calf putting on poundage in the calf yard. The bull was running smoothly. Things looked right for butchering the bull calf. So Ed instructed his hired man to take it to the slaughter house for the usual ritual.

Somewhat or other, one of the prize Holstein heifers ended up where the bull calf should have been and if Ed had worn sackcloth and ashes he couldn't have been more down in the mouth about the heifer.

Of course he had to do all the chores around the farm, now that the hired man was gone, so after putting in a real tough day he came into town and stopped a moment at Hinebaugh's restaurant for a cup of coffee. Now coffee at Hinebaugh's restaurant is especially good, one cup usually leading to another, but Ed really shouldn't have stopped.

During the coffee break somebody stole his car.

It's a cream colored '35 Buick.

Memorial Day Plans Set For Wednesday

Associate Judge Stuart F. Hamill will be the speaker at the Memorial Day services to be conducted next Wednesday in the cemetery under sponsorship of Proctor Kidlow Post No. 71, American Legion.

Included in the line of march will be members of the American Legion, the National Guard, the Knights of Pythias, Boy Scout and Girl Scout organizations, the Civil Air patrol, the Southern High band and the Mt. City Band, and possibly other interested groups.

The National Guard unit will furnish the color guard and also officiate at the playing of "Taps" at the cemetery.

Advertising, News Sought A Day Early

Memorial Day, Wednesday, May 30, falls at an awkward time for The Republican. If it was Thursday, the newspaper could be published a day early. As it is, we must still go to press Thursday, but the management would like to be a little more advanced earlier in the week, so that some free time might be taken on Wednesday.

Therefore, it would be appreciated if all advertisers and correspondents would get their material in as early as possible to expedite matters.

Senior Activities at Southern To Proceed

Senior class activities at Southern High school, which were threatened with interruption following an act of vandalism by two seniors, got the go ahead signal Monday, by W. Kenneth Johns, principal, when the two persons responsible for the act made a clean breast of the affair.

Mr. Johns reported that the exterior wall of the school's hand room had been painted with the sign, "Class of '62," in green paint. He said he had been informed it could be removed from the brick only by sand-blasting which he considered very expensive.

The principal said he took disciplinary action by threatening to cancel this year's all-senior picnic, the awards assembly and the junior-senior prom if the persons responsible didn't admit the defacing by Monday noon.

He said his action was voluntarily endorsed by the senior class president, Porter Welch, and junior class president, Todd Schallie.

An anonymous letter to a Cumberland newspaper protested the action taken by the principal spoke against the punishment of all seniors because of "someone else's" doings. Several parents were reported saying they would have a prom of their own if the school didn't have one. But Mr. Johns said a surprisingly large number of persons commended him for his action.

With the persons known, Mr. Johns said everything was scheduled, but that the two would not be allowed to attend the senior picnic, the junior-senior prom, they would not get a signed diploma that night of graduation, must attend school until June 8th, and that one day this week they would be required to paint the paste around the front of the high school, and that the wording must be taken off the bricks before the diplomas are signed and presented.

Southern One Step Nearer PVC Title

Scoring four runs in the sixth inning after two men were out, Southern High Highlanders overcame a two-run deficit and went on to defeat the Elk Garden Elks 7 to 6 yesterday at Oakland to move a step closer to the Potomac Valley Conference title.

The triumph was the fourth straight for Coach Tom Kuhn's Highlanders who now have a 6-1 mark in the conference and can salt away the crown with a victory in their final game with Bayard.

Lefty Bob Hickey was spotted a 5-1 lead by Elk Garden who drove Southern's Ron Wotring out in the third. But the Highlanders pecked away to trail 5 to 3 in the sixth.

Jim Finch, the winner in relief for Southern with a five-hit stint over the last five innings, started the winning rally with a single.

Wotring followed with another one-base blow. Jim Drompleman relieved Hickey on the mound for Elk Garden. He struck out Ed Bateman and got Gary Trickett out on a ground ball as Finch and Wotring moved to second and third.

With two out Jim Rice belted a triple to deep left center to score Finch and Wotring with the tying runs. Dave Burdock followed with a two-bagger to put Rice home and Dick Guey singled for the final run of the inning. The rally offset Elk Garden's last run in the seventh.

Guey collected three hits for Southern, adding a double and a solo homer in the fourth to his sixth inning single.

Drompleman had two hits, including a triple, for Elk Garden. Knotts, Koller and Thompson also had two hits each for the losers. The victory was the fourth without a loss for Finch.

dynamite just before it went off and was just a short distance away at the time of the blast.

The police officer said he believed the dynamite had been thrown from a passing vehicle toward the bed of the parked pulpwood truck. The Milton G. Hart, criminal investigator for the state police, also is investigating.

Places damaged by the explosion included the grocery store of George W. Diefenbach, 9 windows, roof damaged; Mrs. Mary Livenood, tourist home, picture window and 10 other windows; Louis Klotz home, 2 windows; Mrs. Clarence Glofferty, one window; Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Dettle, 1 window.

The dispute between the paper company and the pulpwood association has been going on since March when members of the association asked for more money for the pulpwood they were hauling to the Lake mill.

After several dynamiting incidents and a shooting, a temporary federal injunction was obtained against the association, prohibiting interference with pulpwood deliveries to the mill.

Since the injunction was obtained there has been a general increase in deliveries of pulpwood to the Lake mill, company officials said.

A spokesman for the pulpwood association said his group is offering a reward of $50 for information leading to the arrest of the person or persons connected with the recent acts of violence. The association feels the dynamitings have been done to "spice" the efforts of the cooperative to obtain a higher price for pulpwood. Recently, he said, the association voted 156 to 1 to continue to hold out against the paper company until a higher delivery price could be obtained.

Blue and Red Robes Are As One at Co. Choral Festival

Cooperation and good will among students of Northern and Southern High school reached a new high during the all-county choral festival last Friday evening.

These all county band and choral festivals had given students of both schools the opportunity to rub shoulders with each other and become better acquainted. Everything was running smoothly and the feeling seemed particularly friendly.

Between the presentation of two numbers there was a gasp from the senior high school students from both Southern and Northern, then followed by hearty applause. The audience was aware of the gasp and applause but didn't know the reason. And here is the reason:

Two Southern High school choristers, who had been excused to play a baseball game had arrived at Northern some minutes late. There was only one Southern robe left for the two and it was entirely too small. Mrs. Lucile Sines suggested there were a couple of Northern High robes there. "We'll use them," said the two grinning boys, and they proceeded to astonish their school buddies by walking out into the gymnasium in the blue robes of Northern. It seemed to make no difference and boosted the feeling of good will by at least 100 percent.

Area Doctors Oppose Kennedy's Medicare

The Allegany-Garrett County Medical Society announced its opposition Sunday to the King-Anderson bill providing for hospital care for persons over 65 drawing social security benefits, which is the Kennedy Medicare program.

Officers conducted a postal poll of the 78 member physicians. Of the 45 who responded, 44 expressed opposition to the King-Anderson bill.

They indicated it would "adversely affect the practice of medicine, the welfare of patients and the future of medical care in the country."

They claimed it would not cover the 4,500,000 aged not enrolled in social security, would not be limited to people who need help, would not favor the low income worker, would not take into consideration the money already paid into private health insurance now held by 9 million aged, or 53 percent of total population over 65.

It would not provide for medicine used outside the hospitals, would not cover all hospital costs, providing a $50 deductible with the patient being required to pay $10 a day for hospitalization for each of the first nine days in the hospital; would not pay dental bills, would not cover treatment from the doctor at his office or at home, would be under federal control and not at state or local level.

The society did endorse the Kerr-Mills bill which went into effect October 1, 1960. This bill authorized the states with federal and state funds, to furnish a full range of medical care to all the needy and near-needy over 65. This bill covers all hospital costs, provides a broader range of medical care for aged, provides dental care and is under local and state control.

Student Wins Army Award For Direction Finding System

The son of a former Garrett County woman, Robert Owendoff, 17, of Falls Church, Va., has won a $500 army award for his method of direction finding, as a "survival method."

The account was told in an article in the Northern Virginia Star and Washington newspapers in recent days.

The method requires only a stick and sunlight to find direction and time. An army spokesman said the method would be published in forthcoming revisions of two army manuals. The decision to use the system was contained in a January 26 letter from the commanding general of the U. S. Continental Army command, Fort Monroe, Va., to the commandant of the Army Infantry and Engineer schools.

Young Owendoff described his system in a recent article in Field and Stream magazine, and it will be the subject of another article in the Pilot, a publication of the Aircraft Owners and Pilots Association.

Bob's mother is the former Vaudy Paugh, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. Scott Paugh. She says requests to use the copyrighted system have been received from Texas American Red Cross, from the State of West Virginia, from law enforcement organizations in Nevada and New Hampshire and from Virginia.

Wildlife

Every Boy Scout knows you don't need a compass to find your way in the woods. But just how simple it is nobody seemed to know until Owendoff got to work.

Owendoff, a senior at George Mason High School, discovered three years ago that all you have to do is place a stick in the ground, mark the tip of its shadow once, then again a few minutes later. A line connecting the two marks will point east and west, and by drawing another line and shifting the stick you can tell what time it is by observing where the shadow falls.

Bob spent 200 to 400 hours in area libraries to find it anyone else had proposed the method. He found no evidence that anyone had.

The stick should be straight and stuck vertically in the ground at a level spot; mark the tip of the shadow with a small stone or twig. Wait until the shadow tip moves a bit, then mark the new location.

To tell time, consider the upright stick as being in the center of a clock face showing 24 hours—instead of 12—with the north line position to noon and the shadow line acting as the hour hand.

Bob has been working on his survival system since 1959. The army award of $500 was made the week of May 15.

DAD'S GRADUATION

It wasn't Dad who burned the midnight oil . . . or crammed for exams . . . or struggled with term papers . . . or won a letter in baseball . . . or a prize in home economics.

Dad just wrote the checks . . . and the encouraging letters . . . and boasted to the office force about his "kids" in school.

But this is really Dad's graduation. For he planned this day many years ago. And all these years he has struggled to give his boy and girl the kind of an education he never had.

Something else he has given them—something he did have; a sound Christian faith, manifested in loyal devotion to his Church's worship and work.

Better than a diploma is Dad's reward today; the reverent, joyous certainty that, not only in their education, but equally in their spiritual development, he has recognized the needs of his children . . . and has seen them through.

Are you planning your children's future—every Sunday?

Tests of Faith

Lesson for May 27, 1962

HOW do we know when a person's faith is genuine? "We" means human beings—such as other Christians. We don't know this as God knows it. He looks on the heart, as we cannot. God knows every one's faith as he knows all things, directly. But there is a great deal that we human beings know only indirectly, such as the state of another person's mind and the sincerity of another's motives.

It is not, after all, other people's faith that most concerns us. What about our own? Do we really have faith or do we only think we have? Some people (like bishops, pastors, elders, parents) do have the great responsibility of deciding, in all humility, whether the alleged faith (for example) of candidates for membership in the church or candidates for baptism, is what it is claimed to be. (To judge from the present state of Christ's church, some errors of judgment at this point seem to have been made. Probably not enough testing has been done.)

"By their fruits ye shall know them," Jesus said. God does not need to wait till the fruit ripens to see what the tree will produce; but we do. Paul gives us (in Gal. 5) a list of "fruits of the spirit." The Apostle John had his own way of expressing things. He would take a simple word and make it hold many meanings. One overall test which he proposed really says the same things Paul and Jesus said, in other words. John's test was this: How does this person walk? He uses "walk" in the Old Testament sense, the one thing after another, the every-day, the living. Life can be likened to a race or to a fight; but most of the time it is just a walk. Not exciting, not dramatic, just a little tedious, monotonous and slow. Many a man waits in vain for a great crisis in which he can prove himself a hero. But most lives don't operate by crises, they are pretty dull, when you come right down to it. John makes the point that it is just this everyday walking that is the test of the reality of faith.

Walking in light

How do you walk, then? John speaks more than once of "walking in light." Cuckroaches and jackals walk in darkness. Deer and hummingbirds move by daylight. Walking in light means living with your shades up and your windows clean. It means living so that you will have no skeletons to hide in closets. It means a life "like an open book," clean paper and clear type. It means you could die on the street the next time you go to the super-market, and not worry about what people would find in the house after you are gone. Walking in light means being what you seem to be. Walking in light also means in God's light, keeping close to him, remembering him in love and a thankful heart. It means steering your boat by the great lighthouse and not by the little lights on the fishing boats. It means living in joy and hope, not in gloom and despair.

The way He walked

John has another way of putting this. Any one who claims to be "abiding in Christ" is using language that was dear to Christ and to his friend and apostle John. But the test of faith is not the beautiful language that can be used about it. The claim is a good claim; but how do you test it? You can't see a person abiding in Christ. We have his word for it, yes, but how do we know he is sincere? John has the answer in words of one syllable: One who claims to be abiding in Him ought to walk in the same way in which He walked. This means nothing, of course, to one who knows nothing of how our Lord lived on earth. This calls for ever-fresh, ever-renewed, ever-renewing study of the Gospel records. There are those who say it makes little difference what manner of man Jesus was. John could not agree to that. It is of vital importance to know as much as we can of how Jesus met life, how he worked, taught, helped—how he met trial and terrors, how he faced triumph and tragedy, friends, enemies and finally death. The simplest test of faith is: Does it produce a life reminding us of Jesus?

REPUBLICAN VOTERS

Please accept my sincere appreciation and thanks for your support and for the confidence you placed in me in the Primary Election on May 15.

Although I was unsuccessful in my campaign for the House of Delegates, I believe we have three good nominees for the November election.

God grant them the serenity to accept things they cannot change; courage to change things they can, and wisdom to know the difference.

Respectfully,
DWIGHT A. BARRICK

Southern Nearing PVC Championship

Coach Tom Kuhn's Southern High school tossers took over the leadership in the Potomac Valley conference baseball race on Monday by defeating Bayard High school at Oakland by the score of 9 to 5.

The victory was the fifth in six starts for the Highlanders, who must win their two remaining games to capture the championship. Southern hosts Elk Garden Wednesday and plays at Bayard next Tuesday. Mathias now trails Southern with an 82 record and Bay Paw is in third place with 72.

Southern put the game on ice in the second inning by scoring six runs to take a 7-0 lead.

Don Watring pitched 12 innings and received credit for the victory, his second against one loss. Gary Trickett came on to finish on the mound for Southern.

Dick Guey collected three of Southern's nine hits while Clark Sharpless and Jay Rice obtained two blows each. Wayne Bailey and Morland shared four of Bayard's nine safeties. The loss was the sixth in seven games for Bayard.

In the Oakland lineup also were Burdock, F. Finch, J. Finch, Bateman, and Roy.

In two other games played within the last seven days Southern defeated Fort Ashby's Eagles 21 to 11 last Friday and took Keyser High 15 to 6 last week.

In the Keyser game the Highlanders collected a total of 13 hits, four of which were credited to Jim Finch, winning pitcher. Guey got three safeties while Sharpless and Watring got two blows each. Finch is 3-0 for the season, having beaten Elk Garden 6-1 and Keyser 6-5 in previous PVC outings.

In the other game Southern scored in every inning, including a six-run sprint in the second and a seven-run outburst in the fifth. The Highlanders combed six Fort Ashby hurlers for 11 hits and took advantage of nine Eagle errors, six wild pitches, three hit batters and 14 bases on balls to pile up their 21 runs. Jim Finch paced the Southern assault with a triple and two singles.

Switzer, Dintaman, Stewart, Navehrod, Friend, Gank and Boeman also saw action in this contest in addition to Burdock, Guey, the two Finches, Sharpless, Watring, Bateman, Trickett, Rice and Roy.

NEWS

FROM THE
Ruth Enlow Library
BY EDITH BROCK

Books have been presented recently in memory of Ivan Mance, Mrs. Frank J. Bell and Mrs. Esther Browning.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Naylor, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis R. Jones and Brittita Maroney have given books to the library.

"Vacation Planning Week" as proclaimed by Governor Tawes for May 20-26 is being observed with a special display of travel books. These include the new National Geographic books "America's History" and "America's Wonders" and a number of other books and pamphlets on travel in the United States.

The library will be closed Memorial Day, May 30.

Special Session May Be Ordered Friday

Gov. Tawes said he was prepared to call the Maryland General Assembly into special session Friday to reappoint its membership if the legislature's present make up is ruled invalid.

A reapportionment dispute is now awaiting decision in Anne Arundel county circuit court. Judge O. Bowie Duckett's decision may not come before Thursday.

Arguments in the suit, which contends small county control of the legislature violates the constitutional voting rights of metropolitan area residents, were completed before the judge Monday.

Tawes and other officials apparently had reached basic agreements with officials of the Maryland Committee for Fair Representation on what form the legislation should take.

The full scale reshuffling would take place in 1966, and present candidates would not be disturbed.

The committee which brought the legal action is made up of residents of Baltimore city and the four populous counties of Baltimore: Anne Arundel, Montgomery and Prince Georges. They contend the present apportionment—in which 19 counties with 24 percent of the state's population, hold 51 percent of the House seats, and 66 percent of those in the Senate, dilutes their voting rights in violation of the 14th amendment to the Constitution.

An Iowa woman was named as U. S. minister to Bulgaria.

CAPITOL COMMENT

by Charles "Mac" Mathias
Congressman, 6th District, Maryland

Potomac River Development
The Sixth Congressional District of Maryland has many assets which are not found in other geographical areas. We have here in Western Maryland some of the outstanding scenery in America, we have wonderful opportunities in business, in industry and in farming. We have every kind of American who walks the earth, we have the city-dweller, we have the suburbanite, we have the farmer; we have the industrial worker, government employee and professional man. One thing that every citizen of the Sixth Congressional District shares with his fellow citizens is the Potomac River which touches every county and almost every community of the Sixth District. All of us are or could be familiar with the Potomac River and its tributaries and the wonderful opportunities that Potomac gives us.

As Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes said many years ago in a case decided by the Supreme Court, "A river is a treasure." This is certainly true in the case of the Potomac, and we must treat it as a treasure—a treasure which peculiarly belongs to us in the Sixth Congressional District.

During the past week, the Army

Corps of Engineers has published its preliminary findings and recommendations for the future development of the Potomac River, its valley and its tributaries. One of the most significant recommendations made by the Army is that there should be an 84 foot dam constructed near Seneca in lieu of the high dam that had heretofore been proposed or talked about for River Bend. This new location is four miles upstream from the River Bend location and would save that much land from being inundated by the stored water. Yet, let's not be fooled. This is a high dam on the main stem of the Potomac River. Senator Harry F. Byrd of Virginia has come out in opposition to this dam because he believes that a series of low dams on the headwaters of the Potomac above Harpers Ferry would give the Washington metropolitan area all the water that it needs. Senator Byrd admits freely, however, that he is not speaking from detailed engineering data, but from his general knowledge of the situation.

I think that Senator Byrd's comments point out very clearly the dilemma that we face. I think he, himself, points out the fact that we need to know a great deal more about this subject before any final decision can be made. I, myself, am disappointed that the Army has not yet decided whether to recommend a high dam anywhere on the main stem of the Potomac River. I think we must study the facts, however, to know whether this is an absolutely inevitable consequence of the growth of the Washington metropolitan area. I think we have got to know what is good about this plan as well as the bad things—for example, there is a possibility that it may create a civil defense hazard for Washington to impound millions or billions of gallons of water just upstream from the cities. I think we have got to know whether the recreational asset which has been one of the talking points for a high dam will really prove to be an asset or whether experience with impounding other rivers proves that they don't turn out to be recreational areas after all.

I am hopeful that we can go ahead with multiple dams upstream because this will have a direct economic bearing on the industrial development of Western Maryland—Garrett County, Allegany County, Washington County. I think that these things must be taken into account as well as the water needs of the metropolitan area around Washington. So, I am

New Life Starts . . .

Tonight and tomorrow night some 247 high school seniors in this county will complete twelve years of public schooling, and will receive their diplomas at commencement exercises.

This is the end of only one phase of their lives and is aptly termed "commencement," for another important phase of their life is just beginning.

Many graduates will continue their studies in institutions of higher learning. Others will go into business or remain on the farms. Others will go into the armed forces to serve their country.

The remarks in this week's issue of The Meyersdale Republican echoes our thoughts in many ways. The article agreed that the students had been well trained for their lives that lie ahead with some of them having been cited for outstanding accomplishment during their high school days.

"It is regrettable that in our community there is a lack of opportunity for further education and employment for many graduates. It is true that some of them will obtain jobs locally, but most will have to go elsewhere to seek their fortunes."

This is one of the tragedies of our existence. There are so many people who have been reared in this area who would like to remain here. Many who have left the area would come back tomorrow if they could find employment. Actually many who never grew up here would like to settle in this community and raise their families and participate in activities. But this is not possible until our economy shows more improvement than it has in the past fifty years.

We congratulate these seniors and extend best wishes for a long life, full of success and happiness, wherever they are, and hope that the future may bring an improved economy for Garrett County.

Highlanders Capture Potomac Valley Title

Southern Highlanders downed Bayard High's baseball team yesterday by a 3 to 1 win to become the first Maryland school ever to capture the Potomac Valley Conference championship. Southern edged out Paw Paw by 8 to 1 tally over the latter's 8 to 2 in league standing. Southern came in third last season.

Jim Finch pitched all the way for Southern, striking out five of Bayard's batsmen, and permitted no walks. He also gained 3 hits to drive in 2 of Southern's runs. Burdock drove in the other run.

The new champions will be given emblems to stitch on their jackets designating them as the '62 winners. The team also has the prerogative of buying a trophy of its choice with $10 presented to it by the conference.

Participating in yesterday's game were: George, F. Finch, Wotring, Sharpless, J. Finch, Bateman, Trickett, Rice and Burdock.

A U. S. plane crashed in Japan, killing six.

Mt. Lake Postoffice To Advance Status

Due to an increase in receipts during the 1961 year, the Mt. Lake Park post office will move up to second class rating, it was learned this week. George Perrine, postmaster, was notified of the change last Thursday by A. C. Thompson, chief of organization services branch of the U. S. postal service, Washington.

The amount of stamp sales at a post office is the guide and last year the Mt. Lake office had amounted to $11,893.64. The previous year's total had been $6,160.75, and the total in 1959 was $5,609.13. The mailing of circulars and other items from The U. S. Stores warehouse and office was the principal cause, it was stated, business which formerly had gone through the Oakland postoffice.

The stepup to second class will be effective July 1, Mr. Perrine said. The advance to second class will make no change in the operation of the post office or in the services offered. However, it could make it possible to have a mounted route carrier service inaugurated sometime in the future, to provide accommodations for the citizens of Mt. Lake Park. It will mean the advancement of a substitute clerk to the position of regular clerk and the addition of a substitute clerk.

The Mt. Lake office apparently was established May 15, 1982 when Abraham L. Sperry became postmaster. Lewis A. Rudisill succeeded him May 4, 1991. Succeeding postmasters have been Clarence J. Rathbun, November 17, 1910; Herbert C. Leighton, January 17, 1922; Katherine O'Donnell, July 17, 1931; George T. Perrine to whom postmaster August 1, 1949 and continues in that capacity.

To become a first class postoffice it is necessary that stamp sales amount to at least $10,000 during one year.

Two new principals for elementary schools have been named by the Board of Education, effective September 1.

They are Mrs. Elisabeth P. Thayer, fourth grade teacher at Center Street, to principalship at Crellin; and Mrs. Mary Scott Jackson, fourth grade teacher at Denmet Road, to principalship of Loch Lynn school.

Mrs. Thayer will succeed Leburn Myers, principal for the past five years, who recently resigned to accept a higher paying teaching position in New Jersey. Mrs. Thayer holds her A.B. degree from the University of Maryland, and has had fourteen years of teaching experience. In recent years Mrs. Thayer spent the summer months traveling throughout the United States, Canada and Europe. Last year she traveled around the world and has given a number of illustrated lectures on her travels.

In 1952 Mrs. Jackson was transferred from the Friendsville school to Center street where she remained until this year when she was transferred to Denmet Road.

Mrs. Jackson is a graduate of Farmont State Teachers college and has had numerous additional courses at the graduate level.

The new three-room primary school at Crellin, now under construction, should be completed by late fall. Loch Lynn is a six-teacher school with a present enrollment of 181 pupils. ## Reapportionment Bill Must Pass Today

The Maryland Senate yesterday moved to final passage stage two chipped up reapportionment bills, then failed by one vote to push the legislative package through to the point where the issue could have been settled.

In consequence the senators and delegates are back today for a final effort. The membership of the House of Delegates must be reshuffled to give the larger subdivisions more of a say in proceedings. Today is the constitutional deadline for passage.

One measure would add temporarily seventeen seats in the House, to go to larger subdivisions. Another bill called for a constitutional amendment which would become fully effective in the 1966 election. It sets up a permanent form of House apportionment based roughly on relative population.

The small counties which have been fighting the reapportionment measures at every turn, have found a chink in the armor of the urban subdivisions. Big counties are sharply divided on method of selecting candidates for the seven extra seats which would be up for election in November. The House bill called for a special primary election July 17. An amendment stipulated that State Central committees of the two parties would do the selecting.

In other minor infractions of the week were the following: Walter Fike, Deer Park, pleaded guilty to a charge of disturbing the peace on May 25 at the home of Nora Fike. He was sentenced to 30 days in jail but the sentence was suspended upon condition he stay away from the home and remain of good behavior.

Three Pennsylvanians were injured and one of them was hospitalized early Sunday morning in a two-vehicle accident on U. S. route 219, 10 miles north of Oakland.

The accident was under investigation by W. D. A. Tucker. It occurred at 12:15 a. m.

He crossed the center line and rammed into Cpl. Browning's 1962 model sedan which he had pulled off the shoulder of the road to avoid the collision. Both cars were demolished. Browning had seat belts in his private vehicle. Browning was not injured.

McSorley and Helen Bierman, 33, who accompanied him, were both injured and were hospitalized.

"OUTSTANDING PERFORMER"—Adam J. Lucas, a conservation aide for the Soil Conservation Service in this county, was presented a certificate of merit for "outstanding performance during 1961" at a meeting at College Park last week. ## Paternalism and Liberty

Non-compatible—"Experience teaches us to be most on our guard to protect liberty when the Government's purposes are beneficent," said the great Supreme Court Justice Brandeis.

We're More Socialistic, Boasts Ambassador—In an address in India last week, Ambassador John K. Galbraith, former Harvard economics professor, boasted that already one fifth of the American economy is planned by the Government.

He said that if we take into consideration all current resources "fully controlled and disposed of by the state, about 20 percent of the American economy is planned."

Ambassador Galbraith pointed out that, as the comparable figures for India was only 13 to 14 percent, "the market economy of the United States has a larger public sector than the socialist economy of India."

Translated, that means that now we're even more socialistic than Socialistic India. Mr. Galbraith's statement was not a warning, but a boast.

The Low-Down On Cuban Invasion Fiasco—Notwithstanding cries of "inaccuracy," Fortune Magazine's behind-the-scenes expose of the Cuban invasion fiasco has earned a coveted award—the 1962 Award for Distinguished Magazine Reporting, presented by the Overseas Press Club of America. The article contained these statements:

"The job of organizing and training Cuban defectors was given to the CIA. It became the specific responsibility of one of the CIA's top deputies, Richard M. Bissell."

It was taken for granted that a landing in force could not possibly be brought off unless the expedition was shepherded to the beach by the U. S. Navy and covered by aid power . . . It was manifestly impossible for the Cuban Brigade's small force of B-26's (only 16 were operational) to provide effective air cover . . .

Cable (CIA Deputy Director General Charles Cabell) now asked (Secretary of State Rusk) whether the U. S. Boxer, a carrier on station about 50 miles from the Bay of Pigs, could be instructed to provide cover. Rusk said "No" . . .

At a White House meeting that night . . . a singular compromise. Jets from Boxer would provide cover next morning for exactly 1 hour, long enough for the ships to run into the shore and start unloading and for the remaining B-26's to go in a hard blow. Next morning, through an incredible mischance, the B-26's were over Cuba half an hour ahead of schedule. Boxer's jets were still on the tight deck. But Castro's jets were ready. Two of the B-26's were shot down; others were hit and forced to abort. That was the melancholy end."

U. S. Marines Land—In Thailand, Not Laos—Our weak and vacillating policy in Laos finally bore fruit—the wrong kind. Laos is "down the drain" W. Averell Harriman, White House adviser on Southeast Asia, gave a lot of advice, and it seems to have been had. U. S. representatives had tried to compromise the Lao dispute by suggesting a coalition government, part Communist, part "neutral." Instead, the Communist forces, identified as the Pathet Lao troops, tossing aside the Geneva "cease-fire," overran the Royal Army troops, whom our men were advising, at the northern outpost of Nam Tha, causing the U. S. Army advisers to back away from Laos.

It was the attack on Nam Tha which prompted the ordering of American forces to Thailand—to help guard that country's border against Communist encroachment. There seems to be no intention, certainly at present, to move into Laos any of the 5,000 United States marines, soldiers, and airmen dispatched to Thailand. It appears we have surrendered Laos. We shouldn't have become involved in Laos in the first place unless we intended to win. Clashes are not expected between the U. S. troops and the Communist-ordered Pathet Lao troops. Neither side is seeking

Youth to Be Tried on Charge of Burglary

Barry Edward Davis, 16, an escapee from the forestry camp at New Germany, will be tried in the criminal court here within the next few days on a charge of burglary. He was arrested last Wednesday when he was spotted in the area by neighbors of the camp as he was attempting to catch a horse.

Sheriff James E. Frantz said that he had left the forestry camp on May 20, and had arrived at Minnesota Monday night where he allegedly broke into three buildings and continued to stay there until he was spotted. Deputy Sheriff Wayne Wilt and one of the state troopers then arrested him.

He will be charged with burglary and also escape from the forestry camp. A saddle and bridle were among the items stolen.

"FOLLOW THE LAW"

The officials of the government charged by President Kennedy in his recent message on transportation to study certain problems in the transport field may have one of the easiest jobs in Washington.

This is not to say that the questions involved are that simple but that the answer, or at least some of the answers, are surely to be found in the Archives of the United States of America, which is bulging with 36,000 cubic feet of studies on transportation. Somewhere in the mountain of material they are bound to find something.

Agriculture Freeman has said, in a television interview, that his subordinates who admittedly accepted gifts and favors from Estes didn't do anything for Estes in return. Secretary Freeman's disclaimers fail to shed light on why, after having been fined for infraction of Federal cotton acreage control regulations, Estes was retained as a member of the Department's Cotton Advisory Board. Senator Allott of Colorado has offered a new word for the dictionary: freemania. Here's the definition:

Free-man-ia, v. t. 1. to gloss over or cover up, as errors, vices, etc., esp. to exonerate by perfunctory investigation 2. a variation of whitewash n. freemanization, special kind of twist treatment for cotton.

Loch Lynn-Mt. Storm Post Double Wins

Mt. Storm pulled into third place in the Town and Country Softball league Sunday by winning a doubleheader at Swallow Falls while the league-leading Oakland tossers and runner-up White Rock were idle.

Richard Smith pitched both ends of the double bill to win his third and fourth games for Mt. Storm, holding Swallow Falls to two hits in the opener for an 11-0 whitewash and allowing only four hits in the nightcap as he won again 7-4. Smith hit a homer in the second tilt as did Frank Bolyard of Swallow Falls.

Loch Lynn kept pace with Mt. Storm by handing Kitzmiller its seventh and eighth straight setbacks, winning 10-8 and 4-3 triumphs over Crellin. Ken Metheny got the decision in both games, winning in relief in the opener and hurling a seven-hitter in the nightcap.

Edward Wilt and Dick Reckner hit for the circuit in the second game to pace the Loch Lynn attack. Bob Paugh dropped his fifth straight pitching decision for Kitzmiller in the opener.

At Oakland the National Guard snapped a four-game losing streak by posting 10-8 and 4-3 triumphs over Crellin. Ken Metheny got the decision in both games, winning in relief in the opener and hurling a seven-hitter in the nightcap.

Log Church To Open For Summer Season

Garrett county's landmark, the Log church on Backbone mountain, will open for the summer months this Sunday morning at 11:00 a. m. The Rev. Fr. Thomas P. Stoup is vicar of Our Father's House, the true name of the building. Worship will be conducted each Sunday until after Labor Day. Morning prayer will be said on all Sundays except the second when the Lord's Supper will be celebrated. J. Clark Middleton, Turkey Neck, Deep Creek Lake, will be the organist for the services.

Being one of the last log churches in this part of the United States, the Log Church attracts an increasing number of visitors each summer who vacation in the county. It is located near Turkey Neck on Deep Creek Lake, although it attracts worshippers from all sections of the area. With a seating capacity of sixty, it registered over seven hundred visitors in the three months it was open last summer. Many visitors to the services find in the building an atmosphere of rustic simplicity associated with America's frontier past, and worshippers often comment that they experience a sense of kinship with the religious and historical past of our forefathers of which they ordinarily are not aware.

Actually the Log Church is not a preserved "antique," but was built in 1931 by the local people who lived on Backbone mountain. Having little financial resources to invest in a building, they constructed it of chestnut logs from the forests and put a roof on it for $50, donated by a Baltimore City church. The building remains the family chapel of families in the area and has been the scene of baptisms, weddings, confirmations and burials. Throughout the summer months the women of the Log Church arrange social hours on the first Sunday of each month, and several social affairs in the evening on the lawn of the church.

The building has changed little over the years except for maintenance and electric lights. Mrs. George Brown of Baltimore City, who provided the land for the building and who laid the cornerstone, died this spring at the age of 87.

The building is open at all times for visitors.

Stock market suffered worst loss in over three years on May 25.

Is Your Name MASON?

Do You Know That:

Mason, an old and honored surname, is principally of English and Scottish origins. As is obvious, it is of occupational meaning and was applied, when surnames first came into vogue, to masons or builders with stones or bricks. As indicative of its antiquity, early records show that Richard Mason was burgess of Aberdeen, Scotland, in the year 1271.

Among the high ranking officers who served in the Continental Army during the Revolutionary War was Colonel David Mason (1733-1792) of the Virginia troops.

The first census of the United States, taken in 1790, has thirty-two listings of persons by the name of Mason who were residents of Maryland and heads of families at that time.

A. C. Mason was County Surveyor of Garrett county in 1875. James W. Mason was a school teacher in Ryans Glade, District No. 8, Garrett county, during the year ending May 13, 1881.

"The Descendants of Captain Hugh Mason in America" is a genealogical work compiled by Edna Warren Mason of Narragansett Pier, Rhode Island, and published in 1957. Hugh Mason was born in Essex County, England, in 1695, sailed for America in 1634, settling in Watertown, Mass., where he died in 1692. He was the father of three sons and five daughters.

James Weir Mason (1836-1905) was professor of mathematics at the College of the City of New York.

Newton Eliphalet Mason (1850-1935) was rear admiral, U. S. Navy. Henry Freeman Mason (1860-1927) was justice, Supreme Court of Kansas.

Edward Sargent Mason is professor of economics at Harvard University.

C. Avery Mason was ordained to the ministry of the Protestant Episcopal church in 1928, served in various pastorates, and has been bishop of Dallas, Texas, since 1946.

William G. Mason is president and a member of the board of directors, Quaker Oats Company, with offices in Chicago.

Karl Ernst Mason is professor and chairman of the department of anatomy, University of Rochester, N. Y., School of Medicine and Dentistry.

Vegetable Plants Need Protection From Insect Damage

"Improve yields and quality of your vegetable crops this year by starting an insect control program before the damage is done," says Ted Bissell, University of Maryland Extension entomologist.

"If something undesirable is destroyed in the early stages, you won't have trouble with it later. This is the theory applied to control of many vegetable crop insects."

Striped cucumber beetles for example, appear from hibernation as soon as cucumber, cantaloupe and watermelon plants start growing. They chew on the leaves and lay their eggs in the surface soil during this early growing period.

The beetles not only damage the little plants but spread bacterial wilt by their feeding, so it is important to stop them early. The larvae which hatch from the eggs, feed on the roots and cause a general unthriftiness.

The treatment recommended by L. P. Ditman and T. L. Bissell in Miscellaneous Extension Publication 54 is a spray application of Aberection, Scotland, in the year 1271.

The adults of the first generation emerge in May and early June and lay eggs on plants such as potato. When the young larvae hatch on potato plants they burrow into the stem tissue, making control difficult.

The insecticide should be applied before eggs hatch. DDT is recommended at 1 pound actual per acre. Thiodan is also effective. Although it is more expensive it has advantages over DDT because it is effective on other potato pests such as leafhoppers, aphids, potato beetles and flea beetles. The recommended dosage for Thiodan for potatoes is 3 pts. per acre of 2 lbs. gal. emulsifiable concentrate. DDT is recommended for early sweet corn.

The second generation of the corn borer is concentrated on corn, field and sweet, but peppers, eggplants and other vegetables also may be attacked.

The late second generation and third generation adults lay eggs on peppers, egg plants, beans and ornamentals such as dahlias and a number of weeds. The recommended treatment for market corn is DDT 25% emulsifiable concentrate at 3 qts. per acre and for processing corn Sevin 85% sprayable at 2 lbs. per acre.

More precise information on controlling vegetable crop insects may be obtained from your county agent or the University of Maryland Extension Service Publication ME-154.

Boy Killed By Fast Train Local Resident

Randall R. Friend, 15, of Beltsville, who was killed by a train on Friday, May 25, is being attempted to walk across the Baltimore and Ohio railroad tracks in Prince Georges county, was a former resident of the Glendale community.

He was a son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Friend and apparently did not hear the train's whistle or the horn sounded by a nearby motorist who tried to warn him.

The motorist told police that the youth did not seem to notice the train.

The train, traveling 78 miles per hour, threw the youth 35 feet when it struck him.

The special assembly may cost $50,000 it was estimated.

IN MEMORIAM

Our hearts are heavy it is true. Because we're sadly missing you. It's not like home since you're away. While it seemed you'd be back someday.

But now we know you are gone to stay. We would not call you back this way.

Into this world of pain and grief. From all of this you have relief. We know you are happy where you are.

You seem so near and yet so far. We're following on as he leads. He was. Assured we will meet again some day.

Low we loved you. But he loved you more. That's why he called you to heaven's shore.

Low we miss you. God knows our heart. Some day we'll meet you and never part.

In memory of one we loved, Elmer Nine, our husband and dad, who slipped away May 27, 1961.

Edith, Donald, Rachel and Timothy Nine.

Large Painting Is Unveiled By Resort

A nine by five foot oil painting depicting the four seasons of recreation at Deep Creek Lake was unveiled at Will o' the Wisp resort last Saturday afternoon.

Aza Stanton, local artist, worked approximately seven months on the oil painting which now hangs in the dining room of the resort motel.

The immediate foreground shows a family picnicking under trees just breaking into full foliage. The background is a view of Deep Creek Lake with fisherman, sail, motor boats and swimmers, while above them, on a snow clad slope, winter skiers race. Under trees in fall color, a hunter and his dog give meaning to the autumn scene.

Among those attending the unveiling were Mayor Russell Smith, Oakland, Mr. and Mrs. Aza Stanton, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lohr, Spencer Graham, J. G. Mealy, and others.

Princesses were Charlotte Damon, June Evans, Sheila Garrett, Carolyn Leighton, Margie Nally, Joan Ritchie and Sue Yutz.

Richard Lewis and his orchestra, of Morgantown, played for the dancing and the coronation.

Pulpwood Problems Aired In Article

An article outlining the problems of the Tri-State Pulpwood Cooperative Association, Inc., with the West Virginia Pulp and Paper company appeared in the Washington Post last Sunday under the caption "Men with Axes to Grind United Against Paper Mill."

Julius Duschka, staff reporter, told of the struggle of the pulpwood producer, over the past six to five years. On March 23 some 400 persons voted to stop hauling pulpwood to the paper mill at Luke after a year of negotiations that failed to produce a higher wage for their product.

According to the story the producers have received only one general price increase in the past 10 years and that amounted to 7 percent. In the meantime trucks cost $4,000 to $4,500, price of tires has more than doubled, a power saw sells for $200 or more.

Beginning last summer the woodsmen sought to negotiate a price increase and to settle other grievances. Minor problems were resolved but the major ones were not settled. The producers get $15 for a 128-cubic-foot cord of oak and hardwoods and $16.50 for pine. The cooperative wanted a price increase of $2.50 per cord.

The company pointed out that it was in the midst of a $60 million expansion program and could not raise wood prices.

Sentiment for a boycott began to crystallize among producers last January but members of the cooperative decided to postpone action.

A few producers earn $2000 to $3500 a year from pulpwood but for most of the producers who own only an old truck and a power saw, pulpwood provides $500 to $700 a year in "cash money," they say.

Pulpwood producers are not employees of the mill. They deliver wood to the mill under contract, that are handed out by the company every three months.

Workers in the mills have protection of Federal labor laws, the relationship between woodsmen and the mill owners is no different from what it was 75 or 100 years ago.

In Washington, Justice department as well as Agriculture and Interior department officials are watching the struggle in the mountain areas.

Both mill owners and producers are watching the outcome of the dispute in the woods. For the past year Federal grand juries in Michigan and Wisconsin have been investigating the pulpwood industry.

So far the mill at Luke, which employs 2300 persons and makes paper for magazines, books, labels and packages, has been able to keep operating by bringing in wood by rail from West Virginia, Virginia and Pennsylvania but at an added expense of $1,000 a day.

Thomas W. Hertz, pulpwood producer who was instrumental in organizing the cooperative and is now its business agent, reported last week that the cooperative ranks are holding.

There is fear in the woods, of telephone calls, threats, court actions and violence. On May 9 the company obtained a preliminary injunction in Federal court restricting the picketing of the company's wood yard and prohibiting members of the organization from enlisting other pulpwood producers in their boycott.

In obtaining the court order the company alleged that members of the cooperative were engaged in an action in restraint of trade in violation of the Sherman and Clayton anti-trust laws.

There have been five instances of violence but officials of the cooperative maintain they had nothing to do with the boycott. The cooperative also argues it was organized under Federal and Maryland laws that exempt agricultural cooperatives from the anti-trust laws. A trial is expected to be held in June to decide whether the injunction should be made permanent.

The cooperative was organized in 1956. It underwent a rebirth in 1961 and is now regarded as one of the strongest organizations of pulpwood producers in the nation.

In addition to higher prices for their pulpwood the producers also would like to set up a revolving fund to provide them with credit for the purchase of new trucks, tractors, tires, saws and other equipment, hospitalization and a medical care program.

Positions Open

Positions of custodial laborer at $2.670 per year, and porter at $2.115 per year, are open at the post office in Oakland, it was announced by the board of civil service examiners in Baltimore. Applications will be accepted as of May 29 and will continue until June 12.

Competition in these examinations is restricted by law to persons entitled to veterans' preference. Non-veterans will not be considered.

Presents Legislation To Conserve Natural Resources of Area

Congressman Charles McC. Mathias, Jr. (R-Md.) introduced legislation in the House of Representatives last week which is designed to assist in conserving the nation's natural resources. Mathias noted that the subject of conservation should be foremost in the minds of the American people at all times.

A study of land use and the growth of metropolitan areas is the object of a measure introduced by Mathias to establish a joint congressional committee. Mathias stated that such a study is necessary in view of the fact that many Departments of the Executive Branch are now engaged in the acquisition, operation and maintenance of real estate. Mathias cited the Departments of Agriculture and Interior as examples of where the objectives of two Federal departments might overlap and where there would be a need for correlation of the activities which could concurrently bring about better conservation practices, reduction of agriculture production and creation of recreational and wildlife areas. Other agencies whose activities in these areas would be studied include, among others, the Department of Defense, Department of Labor and the Housing and Home Finance Agency.

The second measure introduced by Mathias will clarify the authority of the Secretary of Agriculture to extend the benefits of the Soil Conservation and Domestic Allotment Act to land in metropolitan and suburban areas. Mathias stated, "Such an extension would be very valuable from the point of view of agriculture in that lands of exceptional fertility and great value for farming purposes might be identified and avoided in the path of urban development while lands of less utility for agriculture and related uses could be included in plans for urban development."

"I know that in the Sixth Congressional District of Maryland the problem of preserving our natural resources is particularly urgent. Unless we take action now, we will lose the benefit of some of America's greatest natural treasures in the form of rivers, fertile farm land, mountains, woodlands and wilderness, as well as some of the rapidly expanding metropolitan areas in the world. I know from experience and observation, that these problems are duplicated in varying degrees in every part of our country."

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . .

ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake, (2) For his children's sake, (3) For the sake of his community and nation, (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Lonely, enarled, and neglected, but a thing of beauty, isn't it?

We know that trees are functional, that is, they hold the soil, the good earth, the rain. But more than that, each tree, in loneliness or forest, sings out the praises of its Creator, God.

Much more so, does man reflect the glory and image of God. He too then, must sing out the praise and honor to God, his Creator. There is a place for that worship and honor; it is your church. Whether lonely, solitary, or in crowds, He awaits you . . . to hear and to answer.

Love is of God

Lesson for June 3, 1962

THE Apostle of Love, they call him; and John deserves the name. Not that love was spoken for by him alone. Paul speaks of love many a time, and indeed the most famous chapter on love is from Paul's writings, not John's.

And of course Jesus gave the clue to both of them when he summed up the whole of the Ten Commandments, the summary of God's will for man's life, in two commandments: Love thy God, love thy neighbor.

God is love.

However, though others had spoken of love, and given it as a kind of Eleventh Commandment, or summary of all the Law, it was left to John to say something which no one else, not even Jesus, had said: God is love. This is at the same time profound and difficult, and also simpler and clear. This is not a proposition which can be turned end-for-end and still be true. God is love; but love is not God. Love, John says, is "of God" or "from God" as the new English Bible translate it. That is, God is the source of all the love there is, here or in the farthest galaxies. Love is not something which human beings first discovered or invented, and then "thought into" God. We do not ascribe love to God; we find it there, in him. Now you might expect, somewhere in the Bible, to find similar statements, for instance that God is power, or justice, or joy. But no Bible writer ever said it. We can only thrust our thought in the direction in which that short sentence points, "God is love;" we cannot fathom or fully say what it finally means. But we may judge that love is a better word to express what God is, than those other words Power or Justice or Joy or anything else. We may also dare to believe that love is God's basic quality; his justice, his glory, his power, are such as infinite and perfect love brings forth.

God is not sentimental.

Perhaps it is wise to put in something here which has often been said, but which seems to have escaped the notice of too many people. The word "love" as John uses it (not to mention Paul and Jesus) is not sentimental. It has nothing to do with heart-throbs or spells of emotion. When the Emperor Titus one day at a public appearance granted a request made by a Roman Petitioner, a member of the court said to him afterwards, "How could your majesty promise the man what you did? It is not possible to keep that promise, is it?" "No," the Emperor replied; "I know it is not possible; but I did not want the man to go away disappointed." That is kindness; but it is not love. To take an opposite example, the family of a certain victim of polo went to some trouble to help the boy. They just made him learn to help himself in spite of his handicap.

Love, in short, is unselfish concern,—persistent, intelligent, working concern for others. It is a constant and consistent attitude rather than occasional outbursts of emotion. It is this that John means when he talks of "abiding" in love—living in it permanently, maintaining this attitude in spite of all discouragements.

No room for fear.

You would expect John to contrast love and hate. They are a real contrast, but that is not what John brings out. There is no fear in love, he says. If fear and love seem to live together in the heart, John would say, that is a sign that the love is not perfect; if it were, the fear would vanish. This is not to say that love casts out fear in God—that would be an absurd remark, for a frightened God would be no God at all. John is thinking of ourselves. He might even be thinking of our situation in 1962. People are afraid, fear stalks around the globe. But people are afraid because they do not trust God; and they do not trust because they do not love. If some one asks, "How can I love God?" He does not need my help, he does not need any looking after. John would say this is asking the wrong question first. It is our fellowman who does need help and sympathy. If it seems too high a thing to love the God who is love, let us begin by loving those around us who are not love!

PRATT & LAMBERT House Paint

Selecting a house paint for durability as well as beauty is the best way to protect your investment. Make sure your choice is Pratt & Lambert House Paint. It will retain initial beauty and color longer than ordinary paints. It wears down gradually and evenly. This gives protection against the necessity of costly scraping, or burning off when it is time to repaint. Choose from White or many beautiful colors.

The Enlows lived at the farm until 1924 when they built their new home. Mrs. Enlow was born in Grantsville in a log cabin that her grandfather built. In those days he used a team of oxen to haul the logs. The building was later used as a school house and is now being restored as an historic landmark in that community.

Mrs. Enlow remembers when you could count the oil lamps shining across East Reservoir on a winter night, sometimes as many as three or four. When Lakeview school had 28 to 33 pupils, when Main street in Portage was only a mud road. She remembers the molding of candles, carding of wool school days spent sitting at a long table on a slab bench, her mother boarding the school teacher each week in exchange for one music lesson on the organ for her daughter.

Her children are Everett, Alvin and Ellsworth, all of Akron, Mr. of Portage Lakes and Lawrence, of Orlando, Fla.

Congressional Viewpoint

JOHN MARSHALL BUTLER
U. S. SENATOR, MARYLAND

Rx For the Elderly

The question before the Nation is not whether we should have medical assistance for the aged but what kind of program we should support. The citizens of Maryland have always been committed to their responsibilities in this area, and the Free State has a progressive medical care program for the aged which is keeping pace with the needs of the state's elderly citizens.

We should also remember that a program for the aged exists at the Federal level—the Kerr-Mills Act. Although Kerr-Mills became law only 18 months ago, 27 states and territories participate today. Action is forthcoming in another five jurisdictions while the necessary implementation is proceeding in the remaining areas. Furthermore, Kerr-Mills is a voluntary, not a compulsory, program. It will supplement, not supplant, individual voluntary health insurance. It gives the states the right to set up their own program in their own way. Local administration, local choice of benefits and method of payment, local definition and determination of eligibility, minimum Federal controls—all these elements add up to economy as well as effectiveness.

In contrast, the Administration is pushing the King-Anderson Bill, a medical care bill to be financed through the social security system. This new tax would apply to 71 million persons presently under social security. King-Anderson does not provide payments for doctors' bills, only hospital costs and nursing care. Kerr-Mills, however, provides funds through direct Congressional appropriation for doctors' and hospital bills to anyone needing it, whether they are covered by social security or not.

The added social security tax for medical care for the aged is estimated at $1.6 billion for the first year and would rise to $1.9 billion in five years. This tax, of course, would reduce the total "take-home" pay of the employees and the profits of business by that amount. And we all know that when something is taken out of the paycheck, the worker naturally asks for a raise in compensation so that the increase in the social security tax as asked for by the Administration would mean higher wages and higher prices.

It is my opinion that the Kerr-Mills Law, if given ample opportunity, can provide adequate medical care for every one of our indigent aged. It may be that some of its provisions should be amended, but, by and large, it has proved highly effective in those states which have not been waiting for a "better deal" from the Federal government but have gone ahead to help their aged. And, as you might suspect, Maryland was one of the first states to take advantage of Kerr-Mills.

Memorial Day

Memorial Day has come to be a day of holiday, a day of family trips, a day of rest, relaxation and pleasure for many Americans. However, we must never forget the fact that Memorial Day was originally established as a day to remember the Civil War dead of this Country. Since Memorial Day has been celebrated or commemorated through other great wars, and through the Spanish-American War and the Korean conflict, the veterans of all wars are now remembered on Memorial Day.

But the origin of this day is in the history of the great conflict between the States. Perhaps the most moving celebration of Memorial Day in Maryland is at Sharpshurg, Washington county. There at the National Cemetery associated with the Antietam battle, field ceremonies are held throughout the day in commemoration of the soldiers who fought and died at Antietam.

This year Antietam will be of particular significance to all Americans because on September 17 we will celebrate its 100th anniversary. In preparation for this commemorative event, I have introduced a resolution in the House of Representatives which calls upon the President of the United States to proclaim September 17th of this year as Antietam Day, and as a memorial to the soldier.

Who died there, to order that flags throughout the Country should be flown at half-mast until noon on that day, and then hoisted to the peak as a symbol of the union and unity and loyalty of all the people of the United States of America. Why was the Battle of Antietam important? Why is it important that we remember it on Memorial Day this year? I think the history of that period will tell us. The Army of the Potomac or the Northern Army, under the command of General George B. McClellan fought the Army of Northern Virginia or the Southern Army, under the command of General Robert E. Lee at Antietam in what has been described by Civil War historians as the bloodiest single day of the war. The Battle of Antietam was notable because it was the first penetration of Union Territory by Confederate forces in any numbers and because it was one of the most decisive battles of the Civil War.

One of the springs of history that arose from the Battle of Antietam was the fact that President Lincoln felt sufficiently strong to issue an announcement that he would emancipate the slaves in this Country and thereby gave Antietam signal significance in our national history.

Internationally, Antietam was a demonstration to the world that the government of the United States in Washington was able to cope with the civil problems within the Country and it was probably the major factor in persuading France and England not to recognize the Confederacy as a separate nation.

In the matter, I think we must all recognize that both Northerners and Southerners were fighting for a concept of constitutional government by law and for the dignity of man, and the struggle to bring this concept into universal practice continues today. I feel very strongly that we should commemorate the Battle of Antietam and remember the men, the individual people who died there as heroes and the sacrifice that they made, and instill, if we can, in our generation the ideal that this nation, conceived in liberty and dedicated to the proposition that all men are created equal has, in the words of Abraham Lincoln, been tested and has endured for a full century since that awful time of Civil war.

West Germany's 1961 imports topped $11 billion, 3.5 percent more than in 1960.

Legality of prayer in public schools was argued before the U. S. Supreme court.

The Board of Directors urges all turkey producers to establish their eligibility to vote by contacting the County ASC (Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation) office.

At stake is the first nation-wide marketing order, which is designed to provide for government control of the production of turkeys and, in essence, the determination of their price on the pretense of assuring fair returns to producers and reasonable prices to consumers, declared Emerson Bishoff, public relations chairman for Farm Bureau.

He declared, "This order is an administrative device by which the Secretary of Agriculture can control the production of turkeys by controlling their marketing. If approved, this would be the first vital step to control all agricultural production. If this order is approved, farm leaders look for similar orders for dairy products, broilers, potatoes and honey."

"The proposed order is so laced with government red tape that many of our county's growers cannot qualify for voting because of exemptions. Certain producer-handlers and producers who grew less than 300 pounds in 1961 will not be eligible to vote in the referendum."

This means that over 85% of Maryland turkey growers will not be eligible to vote on this most important decision."

There is also a provision that, of the eligible voters, one man's vote may count more than that of another, according to the number of turkeys he raised in 1961. "For these reasons, it is doubly important that all eligible producers be registered and made aware of the facts involved," stated Robert O. Glatfelter, president of the County Farm Bureau.

Bishoff continued, "This marketing order is basically a 'back-door' approach to a government controlled agriculture, which the Secretary of Agriculture has sought unsuccessfully, as of this date, to obtain through legislation. The Secretary has chosen to proceed with this referendum despite majority opposition expressed by turkey growers at regional meetings allegedly held to 'hear-out' turkey growers; despite the fact that Congress does not lend an attentive ear for a government controlled agriculture; and despite the fact that a much smaller crop of turkeys is predicted for this year."

"An improvement of turkey prices, and a sound adjustment of production is being sought, but the price which turkey men will have to pay for a national marketing order will be the loss of their own freedom, and having the market price system replaced by government mandates."

Responsibility . . .

When President Kennedy and associates speak of the nation's need and requirements in various areas they point frequently to the responsibility of the nation. The President, told Congress the nation "falls far short of its responsibility" in meeting its health needs. Responsibility is a strong word. It is a key word that needs to be spoken in a statesman-like manner.

Dr. George S. Benson, president of National Education program, at S. A. K. Kansas, had this to say: "When Mr. Kennedy talks about responsibility he usually means that the nation (taxpayers) can have whatever they are willing to pay for or borrow money for. This in itself is a misdirected notion, for some of the things we most need can be purchased with no amount of money. But the idea that everybody can be healthy, nobody unemployed, and all of us secure comprises a dream we have not realized. After nearly 30 years of managed economy and many billions of dollars later certain truths stand out clear and bold.

"One of these is that the more government does for more people, the more self-defeating these arrangements become. Assuming too much responsibility by government results in irresponsibility on the part of individuals.

"Glowing promises of power-packed political regimes are seldom realized. What they offer never compensates for (Continued on Page Four)

Council Continues Plans To Number All Residences In City

The job of numbering all the residences and business places in Oakland got underway this week with the mayor and council appointing two young men to assist in the project.

At a meeting of the council on Monday evening, J. G. Bell and W. H. Bittinger were appointed to work with Robert W. Lohr, acting postmaster, and Kenneth Ridder, who drew the maps for the project. The two young men will receive $1 per hour for their work and it is expected that the plan will take two or three weeks, possibly more.

The town is being marked off in 25-foot sections with each section being given a particular number. Later there will be a notification from the post office department to each resident what his particular number is. After a certain date customers must use that house number, along with the name of the street, or their mail will not be delivered by city carriers.

Council members and Mayor Russell L. Smith made a planned tour of the streets of Oakland during the week and discussed a number of items in the meeting Monday night as a result of that tour. Some citizens will be notified to clean up their properties, and some will be instructed not to put garages (Continued on Page Four)

Letter to The Editor

Proud Of My County

To do something for someone is the best reason for living, and one of the best ways to serve God. The people of Garrett County have accomplished in ten months that which usually takes several years. Their project had its beginning in the office of a local physician. The discussion soon became town-wide, then county-wide—"The Problems of Our Retarded Children."

Within a few weeks these problems became the project of the county superintendent of schools, school board members, county commissioners, news writers, doctors, lawyers, local companies, various organizations, ministers, priests and other interested individuals. The school for retarded children opened; children of Catholic and four denominations of Protestant faith came together in peace, love, and understanding.

I've watched them grow—physically, mentally, spiritually and socially.

Each day brought forth something from someone in our town or surrounding communities. In November we could truthfully say, "We have had hundreds of visitors—folks from ten states."

Yes, we've grown, prospered, and are expanding.

I'm proud of my county!

Local Club Wins 8 Awards at Conclave

The Garrett County B. and P. W. club walked away with eight honors at the 32nd annual convention of the Maryland Federation of Business and Professional Women's clubs held at the Sea Scape Motel in Ocean City, May 25, 26, and 27. These eight awards included: Achievement Certificate, Stabilization Certificate, 95% Membership Stabilization Certificate, Membership Expansion Certificate (greatest increase), Membership Expansion Certificate (four members over stabilization), 10% Membership Expansion Certificate, and the Rawlitt Traveling Trophy. The Garrett County club was the first recipient of the traveling trophy.

The local club was honored again when Phyllis Trickett, president of the local club, was named by newly installed State President, Mabel Barore, to serve as State Chairman of World Affairs committee.

Principal speakers for the convention included Miss Eleanor Coakley of the Woman's Bureau, Department of Labor; Dr. Earl Willis, Dean of Instruction, Salisbury State Teacher's college; and Mrs. Dorothy Ford, 3rd vice-president of the National B. and P. W. Federation. These three speakers placed emphasis on the "Great American Heritage," which is now being threatened by Communism. Dr. Willis stressed the importance of "developing an aristocracy of intellect" and "dimensions in education." Miss Coakley traced the new feeling of equality of pay and equality of employment chances in all fields. Mrs. Ford indicated that women should assume leadership in the field of education and selling the American ideals of youth.

Friday evening a buffet dinner and reception were held at which time skits and programs were presented. Saturday there was a luncheon, banquet, and installation of officers. During the banquet, "Presidents on Parade" was held with each local president being paraded to the table at which members of her own club were seated.

Responsibility . . .

what is given up in terms of freedoms and individual responsibility. When our government asks for more and more responsibility, this becomes, finally, a matter of irresponsibility. From every point of view, fiscal or moral, the government which restrains its impulses toward power is the one most responsible. Our government is not restraining itself, but is leaping forward toward increasing power.

Labor Secretary Goldberg said recently the federal government could no longer allow labor-management disputes to be settled on old testing grounds but must have guidelines drawn to protect the "national interest." This is completely against the idea of free collective bargaining and would infringe the rights of free people and a free society. The federal government, in this way, could tell either or both sides what to do.

The whole direction is wrong. It is the people who need to accept more responsibility, not the government. We all need to take seriously Mr. Kennedy's inaugural admonition to ask what we can do for our government, not what it can do for us. And nobody needs this admonition any more than Mr. Kennedy himself.

Pictures Out Of The Past

Unusual Machine Dug Water Ditches For Oakland In 1909

By Henry Arnold

For many years following the settlement of Oakland, the town was handicapped by lacking a good supply of water, and means of getting it to the homes of consumers. The same situation existed with regard to sewage lines.

In April of 1908, the Mayor and Town Council called a special election to vote on the question of issuing bonds for the sum of $60,000 to construct and build a system of water and sewage lines over the streets of Oakland.

The bond question carried by a decided majority, and an engineer was engaged to make a preliminary survey of all streets for water and sewage system. Upon completion of the survey, bids were secured and a contract was given to William Tunney, of Joliet, Ill., for the sum of $29,000.

Work was begun in April, 1909. Today's picture out of the past shows Mr. Tunney's ditching machine, the first apparatus of this type to be used in Oakland. When the photograph was taken, it was being used on Oak street. The huge machine attracted a lot of attention, with many persons spending the entire day watching. It was a steam ditcher, and water was hauled to it on a tank wagon. There is only one man in the picture who is known, besides Mr. Tunney, who is standing in front of the machine. The man on the right, standing by the side of the road, is Thomas Martin, who operated a livery barn on the site now occupied by the Mt. Top Tire and Sport Shop.

The picture belongs to Mrs. Mary Biser, of Oakland, who received it from Miss Dora Martin, daughter of Mr. Martin.

Glen Reese, Pittsburgh TV personality, will host the program. Don Marvian and West Virginia will participate. Mrs. Patricia H. Kittle, Deep Creek Lake-Garrett County Promotion Council, will narrate the Maryland slides and a representative of the West Virginia Department of Commerce will handle one part of the program. Informal discussion will follow the slides.

Two Obtain Degrees

Two Garrett county residents obtained degrees at the annual commencement exercises Monday at West Virginia university.

Louis John Sacher, Oakland, received the degree of Bachelor of Science in Engineering of Mines, and Arthur Kemp Shaffer, of Swanton, received the degree of Bachelor of Science in Business Administration.

William P. Shaffer, of Oakland, was one of forty-five West Virginia university students who were commissioned as officers in the U. S. Army, Air Force and Marines during a special ceremony. Shaffer was commissioned a U. S. Marine.

Bible Institute Graduate

Edward Kisner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Offutt Kisner, Third street, Oakland, was graduated from the Zion Bible Institute, East Providence, Rhode Island, on Wednesday, May 30.

Mr. Kisner received not only a diploma of satisfactorily completing the prescribed course of study and practical training in Biblical, doctrinal, missionary and associated subjects, but also received the "Evangelical Teacher Training diploma" in recognition of approval of teaching Christian Education courses.

Mr. Kisner is married to the former Lena Dixon, of Westport.

June Bride

In a moment, the organist will strike a chord. There will be a sudden hush in the church, then the strains of the wedding march will peal forth and she will take her father's arm and start up the aisle, her measured steps symbolic of the very real hesitation she will be feeling.

She would not be human if she did not hesitate. These steps she is about to take are the most important steps of her life. She is poised on the threshold of another existence in which the pronoun she uses will be "We" and not "I." Soon she will learn to think of another before she thinks of herself. Presently, she will come to know fully the meaning of the word "share."

As she moves forward, she falters for just a second. Then her step becomes sure, her lips curve in a smile. The church through which she walks is dear and beloved to her—and so is the man who stands waiting for her beside the altar. Her marriage, blessed by faith, is beginning where all marriages should begin—in the Church.

THE book called Revelation is probably the most difficult book in the New Testament to understand; and yet for some reason more people, with more differing ideas, claim to know just what it all means than any other. It is strange also that the two chapters (2 and 3) contain short messages or "letters" to seven Christian churches, all of them long since vanished, in the Roman province of Asia.

Why study messages to churches far away and long ago? For the same reason we study the Bible at all. By thinking over what "holy men of old" said, by the Spirit's inspiration, to men of their time, we can gather truth which is useful to us who live in a different century, under seemingly different circumstances.

Some commentators on the book of Revelation have seen in the descriptions of these seven churches a panorama of church history; seven ages of the church, seven successive eras in which the Christian church has resembled first the church of Ephesus, then that of Smyrna and so on. This is highly artificial and is not suggested by the book itself. It is nearer the truth to say that both the virtues and the vices of all the seven Asian churches can be seen in every era and in almost every congregation. Take the Church of Laodicea, for example. There have always been churches of this type, and especially in America it is common today. A student of the church named Winter has written a book called "The Suburban Captivity of the Churches," in which he makes the point that suburban

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH
The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Lesson for June 10, 1962
THE book called Revelation is probably the most difficult book in the New Testament to understand; and yet for some reason more people, with more differing ideas, claim to know just what it all means than any other. It is strange also that the two chapters (2 and 3) contain short messages or "letters" to seven Christian churches, all of them long since vanished, in the Roman province of Asia.

Why study messages to churches far away and long ago? For the same reason we study the Bible at all. By thinking over what "holy men of old" said, by the Spirit's inspiration, to men of their time, we can gather truth which is useful to us who live in a different century, under seemingly different circumstances.

Some commentators on the book of Revelation have seen in the descriptions of these seven churches a panorama of church history; seven successive eras in which the Christian church has resembled first the church of Ephesus, then that of Smyrna and so on. This is highly artificial and is not suggested by the book itself. It is nearer the truth to say that both the virtues and the vices of all the seven Asian churches can be seen in every era and in almost every congregation. Take the Church of Laodicea, for example. There have always been churches of this type, and especially in America it is common today. A student of the church named Winter has written a book called "The Suburban Captivity of the Churches," in which he makes the point that suburban

Order of Publication

The object of this suit is to obtain the possession of property and to clear title to subject land from Kenneth Riley and John Schauberg and Iris Schauberg, his wife. The declaration recites that the Plaintiffs were in possession of the premises described as follows:

All that certain piece or parcel of land situate, lying and being in Election District Number Fourteen in Garrett County, Maryland, on the East side of the Red Run tributary of Deep Creek Lake, adjoining the property of the Pennsylvania Electric Company and more particularly described as follows: BEGINNING at a stake standing in the line of the Pennsylvania Electric Company, said stake standing South 16 degrees 54 minutes West 600 feet from a concrete monument marked "N-661," said monument being a corner common to Pennsylvania Electric Company, Voder-Vandersall Estate and Hobart Harvey, and being the beginning corner of the 577 acre tract of land that is described as Tract No. 5 in a deed from Eastern Land Corporation to Young-Johns Hydro-Electric Corporation, dated October 1, 1925, and recorded in Liber E.Z.T. No. 91, folio 448, one of said Land Records of Garrett County, Maryland; and running thence from said beginning stake and crossing the County Road, South 73 degrees 06 minutes East 150 feet to a stake; thence South 16 degrees 54 minutes West 50 feet to a stake; thence crossing said County Road, North 73 degrees 06 minutes West 150 feet to a stake in the line of Pennsylvania Electric Company; thence with said line, North 16 degrees 54 minutes East 50 feet to the beginning, containing seventeen one-hundredths (0.17) of an acre more or less, including said County Road that crosses through the land hereby conveyed.

BEING part of the land that was conveyed to Hobart Harvey and Rosa M. Harvey, his wife, by deed from William McKinley Harvey, Executor, dated the 10th of November, 1943, in Liber E. Z. T. No. 132, folio 265, one of the Land Records of Garrett County, Maryland.

That the Defendants ejected the Plaintiffs from the premises aforementioned in July, 1961, and retained possession thereof.

And the Plaintiffs claim recovery of the said parcel of land in the sum of One Thousand ($1,000.00) Dollars for damages.

It is thereupon this 9th day of May, 1962, ORDERED by the Circuit Court of Garrett County, Maryland, at law, that the Plaintiffs, by causing a copy of this Order to be inserted in some newspaper published in said Garrett County, Maryland, once in each of four (4) successive weeks before the 8th day of June, 1962, giving notice to the said absent Defendants of the object and substance of this Declaration, warning them to appear in this Court in person, or by solicitor, on or before the 23rd day of June next, to show cause, if any they have, why judgment ought not to be entered against them.

Pulpwood Haulers Recess Boycotting

The 65-day boycott on trucked pulpwood by the Tri-State Pulpwood Cooperative association to the Luke Mill of the West Virginia Pulp and Paper company has been temporarily recessed by a vote of the membership.

"We have gained national attention and assistance in our course and we are continuing to pursue every legal means to obtain fair prices and delivery conditions for our members," said John Diehl, president.

The group also voted Friday night to affiliate its 1,200 members with the National Farmers Union with headquarters in Washington and Denver. The Farmers union, advocate of family type farming, has been a strong supporter of the Kennedy administration's new farm program, officers said.

In voting its temporary cessation of the boycott, the Tri-State Co-Op did so only with the provision that no reprisals would be taken by the company against either the membership or its officers.

Thomas Hetz, business agent for the group, said he had received word of a $6,500 technical assistance grant to the Co-Op by the area re-development administration in Washington for undertaking a marketing study to find new markets for forest products. "We are tired of being tied to our one-crop pulpwood economy in this area," Hetz declared, "and new markets will help mightily."

The membership asked the U. S. Department of Justice to investigate collusion in restraint of interstate commerce by the paper industry in its purchase of pulpwood when other mills refused to buy

After the company filed a request, U. S. District Court in Baltimore issued an injunction against the cooperative restraining its members from picketing at the mill yard and enjoining them from acts of violence.

A number of trucks were dynamited, along with a wood loader, but cooperative officers maintained that none of their membership, according to their investigations, was involved in the acts of violence.

Where The Buggy Makers?

Warner and Swasey, precision machinery builders, asked an interesting question in an advertisement appearing this week in P. S. News and World Report. It asked, "What ever happened to the buggy makers?"

It also had a good answer. It continued: "When 'technological unemployment' hit them (via the automobile) some got jobs in the new auto factories, some in many new fields created by the automobile (service stations, garages, parts makers.) The more ambitious even got jobs later in missile plants. And once the adjustment was over, most earned more than ever before, some became rich, many created new jobs for added workmen."

"But some just sat and waited for buggies to come back, cursing the system that had taken their jobs. If these had had their way (and if politicians had listened to them) there would have been laws against the new-fangled automobile, there would have been subsidies to keep buggy makers in business—and the hundreds of thousands of good jobs the automobile brought would never have been created."

"Progress for all means growing pains for a few, but is that any reason to penalize growth?"

Now we have featherbedding among industries, forced on them by labor laws, subsidies, payments for this and that, union laws that fine people for doing more work than they are legally supposed to do. There is talk of passing laws to lower tariffs and then pay industries that are hurt by the change. Farm people are penalized if they want to make their own decision as to what and how much to plant.

In these and other methods our government is killing private initiative and personal responsibility. The spending program that will prove fatal to our mode of life goes on and on. The people of this nation must put on the brakes, restore soundness to our financial structure before it is too late. Are there not enough sensible people in this nation to repudiate the spenders?

Small Nominated By GOP For Governor

Scoring Gov. Tawes for "failing to respond to the state's needs again," former Congressman Frank Small, Jr., last Saturday accepted the Republican nomination for governor and predicted victory for his party in November.

He made his prediction at the State GOP convention in session in Baltimore. Pointing out that Tawes was nominated with about 177,000 votes, the Prince Georges county businessman added that "more than 250,000 Democrats indicated by voting for one of his opponents that they do not consider him fit to be their governor."

That sentiment was shared by the keynote speaker, former Gov. Theodore R. McKeldin. "The Democrats," McKeldin said, "have done such a thorough job of discrediting their own candidates that our campaign will be largely an effort to salvage what little is left of the reputation of Maryland."

Small, former Congressman, state delegate, county commissioner, Commissioner of Motor Vehicles and racing commission member, asserted he is bound by a "solemn promise to bring to our state government an honest, efficient, effective and businesslike administration which is responsive to the needs of the people."

Small said he would work to "create an attractive climate for industry" in Maryland by introducing legislation revising depreciation allowances and other tax measures on business.

The candidate told the delegates that Maryland should strive to have the best educational system in the nation, "outstanding physical facilities, the best possible textbooks and capable, intelligent, well-trained teachers who have sufficient incentive to do an outstanding job." Small also commented that the state's vocational training should be expanded and improved.

Armed Men Stage Station Hold Up

Two gunmen held up a gasoline station in LaVale, near Cumberland early Wednesday, abducted the volunteer attendant and slugged him after forcing him out of their car near Eckhart. The bandits made off with $141.75 cash.

The youth sustained a head injury but did not require medical attention.

Libel Suit Docketed In Circuit Court

A case of libel was docketed against a Grantsville woman and two Pennsylvania corporations in the Circuit court last week, with $50,000 in damages being sought.

Mrs. Lois Zehner, of Grantsville, has entered suit against Penn Alps, Inc., a Pennsylvania corporation, the Allegheny Conference News, also a Pennsylvania corporation, and Dr. Alta Schrock, secretary to the first named and operator of a native craft business at Grantsville.

The plaintiff is former owner of the property, formerly known as The Arlington, previously owned by her husband, Roy Zehner, and is now known as Penn Alps.

The cause of the suit is the result of a story appearing in the Allegheny Conference News in June, 1961, under a story "Penn Alps Serves the Alleghenies." Mrs. Zehner charges that a false and malicious statement was made concerning her and claims it was libelous and "imputed conduct tending to degrade the plaintiff and to bring her into public contempt and ridicule and prejudice her standing and reputation as a private citizen."

In the declaration Mrs. Zehner said she had never been indicted or convicted of any crime of however minor a nature. She is a widow, 56 years of age.

The publication, according to the declaration, made the statement, "At the time of purchase this old inn had a very unsavory reputation in the community and was a matter of deep concern to upright citizens of the area."

The declaration further stated the Allegheny Conference News made this statement: "When on June 17, 1959, the last beer bottle was loaded on a truck to be hauled away by the former owner of the Arlington, those of us who were on hand to start the gigantic job of cleaning and remodeling breathed a deep sigh of relief and gratitude. The place was ours and the challenge to convert this den of vice into a stronghold for the Kingdom was ours too."

Dr. Schrock has employed the services of Lewis R. Jones and said a reply would be filed in the Circuit court by Mr. Jones on Monday. In her reply she said she will deny any libel is involved. Attorneys for the plaintiff are Roland Leady, Norman I. Broadwater and a Mr. Boulbitz, of Hagerstown.

Turkey Referendum Scheduled June 18-22

Turkey growers were reminded today by Arthur G. Fitzwater, chairman of the County ASC committee, that a referendum will be held from June 18 through June 22, to determine whether or not a proposed National marketing order for turkeys will be put into effect. The order will become effective if it is approved by at least two-thirds of those voting, by number or by volume of production.

The order is designated to provide the industry with means by which the marketing of turkeys can be adjusted so as to assure fair rates to producers and reasonable prices to consumers, Mr. Fitzwater said. It provides for producer allotments and other means of controlling the marketing of turkeys.

Those eligible to vote in the referendum will include "producer-growers" who marketed more than 3,000 pounds (liveweight) of turkeys in 1961, and "contract growers" who in 1961 had a risk-of-loss contract in turkeys produced by a producer-grower.

The chairman explained that each eligible producer must certify the live-weight volume of his turkey marketing in 1961, before he can vote. Forms which growers may use to certify production have been mailed to all known eligible producers in Garrett county. Any grower who did not receive a form may secure one at the ASCS office in Oakland through June 22. The office is open from 8 a. m. to 4:30 p. m. (DST), Monday through Friday.

All eligible producers who certify production will be furnished a ballot and instructions. Ballots may either be mailed or cast in person. Mailed ballots must be postmarked not later than June 22.

Welfare Expenses Keep Increasing

Expenditures for welfare work in this county took still another increase during the past month. Costs through the county welfare office for the month of April totaled $11,161.87, another increase of $375.87 from the previous month, according to a report from Dr. Alvin Thalheimer, chairman of the State Department of Public Welfare. The figures never include costs of administration.

The increase during the previous month was $261.43, $1,813.57 for the month before that, and other hops of $1,887.23, $1,785.15. The amount a year ago was $31,400 which had shown an increase in seven of the previous eight months before that. The amount was distributed to 954 persons, just five more than the previous month. Last month the increase was 11 with figures like 45, 30 and 34 for previous months.

Largest expenditure as usual was in the category of Aid to Dependent Children where 586 persons in 179 families received $21,499.80, an average of $120.11. There were 11 new applications with ten cases added and nine cancelled.

In the category of Old Age Assistance 199 persons received $10,442.63, an average of $52.48. There were three new applications with two cases being added and five cancelled.

Three blind persons received $198. Ninety-three persons listed as permanently and totally disabled received $5,178.66, an average of $55.68. One case was added in this division.

Forty-one persons listed under general public assistance received $1,890.13, an average of $46.10. There were two new cases with one being added and two cancelled. Thirty-two persons were listed under foster home care for children and they received $1,952.65, an average of $61.02. Four children were placed during the month and two persons went out of care.

Certificates for medical care for the aged had been granted to 149 and seven additional persons applied. Ten were added. Thirty-six persons were certified for hospital care.

Throughout the state the total welfare cost amounted to $3,318,890, compared to $3,330,698 for the previous month and $2,846,271 for April a year ago.

Reapportionment Battle in 2nd Round

A second round was set in a legal battle over reapportionment of the Maryland legislature.

Judge Bowie Duckett at Annapolis agreed to hear further arguments today at 2 o'clock on whether metropolitan areas are entitled to more representation in the State Senate as well as the House of Delegates.

Judge Duckett ruled May 24 that seating in the lower house violated the constitutional rights of metropolitan residents, but said he did not see any constitutional requirement for the Senate to be related to population, but declined to give a formal ruling. The Court of Appeals directed last Friday that he also decide the Senate question.

At present there is one senator for each of the 23 counties and one for each of Baltimore City's six legislative districts.

The legislature, meeting in special session, added 19 seats to the House for the benefit of metropolitan areas. It took no action on the Senate.

The Maryland Committee for Fair Representation, complained that the judge had decided only half of the question. The committee outlined these arguments:

The Maryland Senate "is one of the most grossly malapportioned legislative bodies in the union." Small counties containing less than 15 percent of the state's population hold a majority of seats.

There also exists "equal and unreasonable discrimination among the more populous subdivisions" themselves in the Senate. Baltimore county, with a population of about

CAPITOL COMMENT

by Charles "Mac" Mathias
Congressman, 8th District, Maryland

You will recall that last February I reported that I was sending out a Legislative Questionnaire asking thirty questions on issues that would be before the Congress this year. These questionnaires were circulated to those who were on my mailing list, to those who as a result of reading this column wrote in and requested copies of the Questionnaire, to citizens who volunteered to take them door-to-door in their neighborhood, and to civic associations which distributed them. Businessmen, as a public service, put them in their places of business for their customers and patrons.

As a result of this approximately 20,000 questionnaires were distributed throughout the Sixth Congressional District. The method of distribution was not intended to be, nor was it a scientific sampling of public opinion by the methods which are usually employed by professional poll takers. Nevertheless, I believe it did reach enough people in the Sixth Congressional District to give us a strong sample of what you are feeling. I want to thank you for taking the time and trouble to answer the poll and to comment, as so many of you did, in addition to simply answering the thirty questions.

During the coming weeks the results of the questionnaire will be made available to you through newspapers and individual letters. Those of you who would like to have a complete tabulation of the results of this Legislative Questionnaire may obtain a copy by writing to me in Washington, D. C. I will be more than happy to send you the complete tabulation of how the people in Maryland responded to this questionnaire and the thirty legislative questions.

To give you an idea of how the people are feeling in the Sixth Congressional District, let me give you a few of the results. For instance, 47% of those who answered the questionnaire favored summit negotiations on the future of Berlin while 43% were opposed and 10% offered no opinion. Sixty-three percent were in favor of a new reciprocal trade program which will allow the President to make across-the-board tariff laws. Thirty percent registered opposition and 7% had no opinion.

Fifty-eight percent of those who answered the questionnaire indicated that domestic programs should be cut to compensate for increased defense spending if such economy is necessary to balance the budget. Only 35% voted against this position, whereas 7% had no opinion.

A resounding 78% registered the belief that we had to cooperate economically with the European Common Market. Only 13% were opposed. Nine percent registered no opinion.

On the question of the establishment of a withholding system for dividends and interest income, the majority were opposed. Thirty-eight percent voted in favor, with 6% registering no opinion. On the question of federal financial aid for elementary and secondary public school construction and teachers' salaries, the results showed 28% in favor, 68% against and only 3% having no opinion.

On the question of new civil rights legislation the majority opposed further legislation in this field at this time. On the question of establishing a national park in the Chesapeake and Ohio Canal National Monument, I am glad to 500,000, has only one senator while Baltimore city, with a little over 900,000, has six.

Maximum dilution of voting rights of metropolitan residents reaches as high as 33 to 1.

Atty. Gen. Thomas B. Finan said the committee's arguments amount to a request for a unicameral (one-body) legislature in Maryland. "There would be no distinction between the houses or at least a very tenuous distinction," if the Senate were to be based on population report that 60% of those who answered the poll were in favor of park status.

On the question of allowing federal employees to engage in political activities, a bare majority of 44% were in favor and 40% opposed.

These are some of the sample results from the Legislative Questionnaire. For full results, write Charles Mathias, your Congressman, U. S. House of Representatives, Washington, D. C.

43 Marriage Permits Granted Past Week

Forty-three marriage licenses were issued during the past week ending Monday at noon, June 11, from the office of Richard L. Davis, clerk of the circuit court. This brought the total for June thus far to sixty-three. Of the thirty-nine licenses issued the week previous, nineteen were granted in May which brought the total for that month to 121, slightly less than for May a year ago.

Nine licenses issued during the past two weeks were marked "don't publish," four this week and five the previous week.

NEIGHBORS AND FENCES

THE CHURCH FOR ALL...

ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Maybe Walt and Jerry don't realize the paradox in this scene. They're simply leaning on the fence while their youngsters enjoy the new sliding board in Walt's backyard.

But fences once implied enmity... fear... selfishness. They are first cousins to the walls the ancients built around their cities.

Centuries of Christian influence have implanted a different spirit in men's hearts. A fence today can add interest and beauty to neighbors' gardens, while keeping Walt's and Jerry's kids from running across the flower beds.

There are countless evidences of Christian influence in our community today. The Church has elevated human ideals. Faithful worship and spiritual growth bring us closer to those ideals.

Praise In Heaven

Lesson for June 17, 1962

SOME of our hymns about heaven are well-meant but stupid. For example there is one that contains the couplet: "Where congregations ne'er break up And Sabbaths have no end."

What a terrible place! You would never have a chance to speak to any one, never any opportunity to do anything. Just stand and sing, or (worse yet) listen to sermons forever and ever.

We may be thankful no such picture is given in the Bible.

Yet we can understand where the church-loving author of the poem got his idea—probably from those scenes in the book of Revelation where voices without number join in praise to Almighty God. These passages, including some of the grandest word-pictures in the book of Revelation, give us a starting-point for some thoughts about worship, especially that aspect of worship which we call praise of adoration.

Praise of God varies praise of man.

First, there is certainly a difference between the praise of God and the praise of man. A man may or may not deserve our enthusiasm; we can praise men too much. But we never can praise God enough. Furthermore, when we praise other men, we may be doing something for their ego, something to bolster their self-respect, something to cheer their discouragement. We may also (provided we do not overdo it) help along their reputation and their career, by judicious praise.

A good and wise teacher, by praise just at the right time, may guide a boy into a useful and even brilliant life-work. (What are "recommendations" but sheets of praises?) Something is added to a person by praise; or when the praise is mistaken, something may be subtracted. (Don't you feel pretty small when someone has puttered you up beyond recognition?)

God is, of course, not affected in this way. He doesn't need to have his reputation built up, he doesn't need recommendations, he does not try to live up to the nice things said about him! He is above these things, above the loftiest adoration we can offer.

From the heart

Another important difference between the praise of God and of man is this: The one who praises men hopes to get something out of it; indeed even when we praise God we rather sheepishly hope he will take special note of it and remember it when we need a favor. But the praise of heaven is not (as Samuel Johnson said about gratitude) "a lively sense of favors to come."

It is above these things, above the loftiest adoration we can offer. It is spontaneous and sincere, it has no price-tag, yet it is beyond price. Such praise is possible even here and now. The necessity of life more or less forces us to consult our clocks and calendars to see when it is time to worship God. Thus we get into the regrettable habit of putting off our expressions of gratitude until after 11 A.M. next Sunday, and if we stay away from church, then God goes forgotten (so far as we are concerned) for another week.

What we ought to be doing (otherwise heaven will embarrass us) is to cultivate the thankful heart at all times, week-days and Sundays. "Thank you, God," may not be rated an elegant prayer in Boston; but when it is heart-felt, God does not look it over for fancy language.

To God and the lamb

One other very important point strikes us as we read these great lines from Revelation: adoration is rendered at the same time to God and to the Lamb—that is, to God and to Christ. We can see how at the very outset of the Christian religion, it was natural to think of God and Christ sharing the same throne. The real test of whether a person actually believes in the God-hood of Christ is whether he offers prayer and praise to him. In church he does, of course; but does he quietly in his own private prayers? Later on in the book of Revelation we hear about prayer offered to a Beast, to a Dragon, to an Image; and this is pictured as nothing less than blasphemy. To offer prayer and praise to any person or thing that is not God, is to sink into idolatry. Yet to refuse prayer and praise where it belongs, is to make religion cheap and small.

He had a prominent part in the improvement of Cumberland's water supply in accordance with federal standards, the construction of the city sewage treatment plant, installation of water and sewerage systems for many homes, the control of stream pollution and organization of a survey of city schools for sanitary environment and formation of school cafeterias.

TV Courses Planned At Frostburg College

State Teachers college, Frostburg, will offer television courses for credit if the public demand is sufficient. R. Bowen Hardesty, president, said that financial arrangements with Potomac Valley television company have been made to begin television courses for college credit in September.

Questionnaires are being sent to subscribers of the cable system in the area to learn the demand for these courses which would originate in the studios of Potomac Valley television company.

At least 100 must be enrolled for the program before it is definitely established, Hardesty said. Those taking the courses would need to visit the Frostburg campus periodically for testing. Hardesty said the type of courses to be offered would depend upon particular interest shown by applicants. Envisioned were courses in mathematics, English, science, art, music.

Dr. Raymond O. McCullough, director of extension and summer work, would be in charge of the television education program.

He said this step in no way affects the two other television prospects the college is attempting to Foreign Aid and Population Explosion—Apropos of our discussion in the Senate this past week on the subject of foreign aid, I am reminded of something Eugene R. Black, President of the World Bank, recently said; it was that population explosion, particularly in the underdeveloped countries, threatens to make useless the foreign aid we're pouring out. In other words, the population of the world is increasing faster than can be kept up by our bountiful give-away programs. You can get the frightening picture of the population explosion by observing the fact that it took the thousands of years of history for the world population to reach the present figure of 3,000,000,000, but it will take only 35 more years for that figure to double. Let's face it—we simply cannot continue forever to hand out foreign aid dollars on the same grand scale.

"Standby Public Works": A Partial Victory—What the Senate did last week about the Administration's "Standby Public Works" bill is an illustration of what can be accomplished by the people to halt the trend toward unlimited power for the President and irresponsible administration. Many of us in the Senate carried the fight to the people in our newsletters, explaining what was about to happen, and the people all over the country responded with letters and telegrams.

establish. Closed-circuit video for campus use has been requested and Hardesty said that he would include its expense, $150,000, in his next budget.

estry and fisheries, 6 in personal services, 6 in construction, 5 in public administration, 4 in finance, insurance and real estate, 2 in repair services, 1 in mining, 1 in entertainment and recreation services, and 4 in industries not reported.

"Medicare" Bluff and Bustle—The problem of medical care for the aged deserves careful attention. It's not going to be solved overnight by an ill-considered halfhearted scheme such as the "Medicare" plan. The Kennedy Administration has no monopoly of concern for the aged. What it is trying to sell is only one method of meeting an important need—a need which is already being met in generous and increasing measure by voluntary rather than compulsory methods, by pinpoint service rather than wasteful blanket coverage—of both the wealthy and the needy. If the American people would take pains to inform themselves reliably on the subject, we believe they would reject compulsory processes as provided under the King-Anderson "Medicare" bill in favor of voluntary processes, and would resist wasteful blanket expenditures in favor of more carefully directed ones.

How's Business?—Foreclosures on homes and small businesses are at an all-time high. There were 73,074 home owners and small business owners who lost their property for foreclosure last year, 1961, which was 42% higher than in the year 1960. Although strikes are traditionally more prevalent when times are good, the number of strikes throughout the country in the first three months of 1962 was according to the Bureau of Labor Statistics, "substantially higher than during the corresponding period of 1961."

Personalities who advise the President are coming in for closer scrutiny as a result of the failure of the United States to follow the high road. P. Sessor Seymour Harris of Harvard, "Senior Economic Consultant," noted for his advocacy of a "modest amount of inflation throughout the country in the first three months of 1962 was according to the Bureau of Labor Statistics, 'substantially higher than during the corresponding period of 1961.'"

Other improvements were made, including, chiefly, the amount set for the operation. The President had asked for authority to spend on the "make-work" projects of his own choosing the amount of $2,500,000,000. Under the action taken by the Senate, the President would be given—for this particular purpose—authorization to spend $750,000,000 in the fiscal year starting July 1 and standby authorization for another $750,000,000 for the fiscal year starting July 1, 1963.

What Do People Work At?—According to the 1960 census, authorized by Congress, of every 100 persons employed in the United States 27 are in manufacturing, 18 in wholesale and retail trade, 12 in professional and kindred services, 7 in transportation, communications and utilities, 7 in agriculture, for-

NEWS FROM THE Ruth Enlow Library BY EDITH BROCK

Books in memory of Mrs. J. S. Cooper, Roy Hauser, J. Guthrie, Luke H. and James Blaine Franz have been presented to the library recently.

The Oakland-Mt. Lake Park Lions Club, Dr. and Mrs. H. R. Gibson, Mr. and Mrs. W. Robert Nethken, Judge and Mrs. Stuart Hamill, Hazel Giotfelty, Frank Peters, Henry Lee and David Gouder have given books and magazines to the library.

If you are thinking of building a cabin or cottage this summer, books and magazines from the library can be a valuable source of ideas for you.

One of the newest manuals is "The Wilderness Cabin" by Calvin Rutstrum which gives detailed directions for building a variety of frame and log cabins, in addition to pointers on locations, equipment and interior design.

Another new book, William Hennessey's "Vacation Houses" presents 40 architect-designed "second" homes ranging from small one-room-plus-bath cabins to larger vacation houses. Suggestions on planning, construction, materials, plumbing and heating are also given.

Other helpful books for the prospective cabin builder are: "How to Build Cabins and Ranch Houses" by great statesman and writer, de Toqueville, said: "Democracy extends the sphere of individual freedom; socialism restricts it. Democracy attaches all possible value to each man; socialism makes each man a mere agent, a mere number. Democracy and socialism have nothing in common but one word: Equality. But notice the difference: While democracy seeks equality in liberty, socialism seeks equality in restraint and servitude."

The United States of America!—Two statements, recently uttered from far distant shores, seem to belong together. The first is from Paris, from an official of the French government, and the second is from a widely circulated advertisement of an Ohio machine tool manufacturing company—as follows:

A toast to the U. S. A. from Andre Malraux, French Minister of State for Cultural Affairs: "For culture, for the freedom of the mind, I offer a toast to the only nation that has waged war but not worshipped it, that has won the greatest power in the world but not sought it, that has wrought the greatest weapon of death but not wished to wield it; and may it inspire men with dreams worthy of its action."

From a Warner and Swasey ad: "There seems to be a strange set of ideas floating around, that a fervent belief in America as the greatest nation in the world is old-fashioned; that earning your own way and insisting that others do the same is 'stuffy'; that mounting debt is no dishonor; that thrift and self-denial are out of date; that No-Win against your enemies is 'clever'; is religion out-of-date? Is honesty old-fashioned? Is self-respect too much trouble? . . ."

Cooperative To Meet

The Southern States Cooperative annual membership meeting for the Eglon, W. Va., area will be held August 7 at Aurora High school. The action came at a recent annual planning conference held by W. E. Harsh & Son, Eglon, agency.

A special feature of the meeting will be color slides of local farmers taken with their own enterprisers.

In addition to elections and other business matters, the group voted to show a color film entitled "Jimmy Gets the Answers."

Kennedy Twist ....

Popular demand is reaching record proportions for the pocket size pamphlet entitled "Senator Smith Analyzes the Kennedy Twist" being distributed by the Women's division of the Republican National committee. It includes excerpts from the recent speech of Senator Margaret Chase Smith of Maine.

Here are a few of the excerpts and we will have more in later issues.

NEPOTISM—On October 18, 1960, Candidate Kennedy told the Washington Daily News, "Nepotism is dangerous to the public interest and to our national morality."

As President he ignored his unqualified condemnation of nepotism and the list of Kennedy relatives on the public payroll is only a little more exclusive than the so-called social "100." "The Kennedy Twist" is no longer a duet; it is a conga line stretching around the world.

SECRECY—"I believe that the American people in 1960 are entitled to the truth, the truth with the bark off, the facts of the matter," said candidate Kennedy October 26, 1960. After the nation's newspaper editors had condemned President Kennedy's violation of promises of open door information policies, Senator Fullbright told "Meet the Press" April 30, 1961, he hoped the President would inform the country of the conditions we confront and what we ought to do about them. The Kennedy twist—but without accompaniment by the Arkansas Traveler.

PRESTIGE POLLS—In the 1960 campaign candidate Kennedy made an issue of the overseas public opinion polls conducted by the USIA and demanded they be published. When the Cuban fiasco dropped American prestige to an all time low, President Kennedy ordered the polls abolished altogether. This time the Kennedy twist had a rumba beat.

MISSILE GAP—As a candidate Kennedy pounded away at the "missile gap." Three weeks after his inauguration President Kennedy's defense secretary revealed there was no missile gap, after all. According to Washington society columns Secretary McNamara is the champion twister at White House parties.

Ready Survey On Water and Sewage

Mayors of incorporated towns of the county met last night in the court house for the purpose of readying a survey of sewer and water system needs. They met with Carl Schell, president of the County Commissioners and Robert Register, an engineer who has been acquired by the county to prepare a preliminary survey of the county's needs in this respect.

Mayors of Accident, Deer Park, Friendsville, Grantsville, Kitzmiller, Mt. Lake Park and Oakland attended. Under the sponsorship of the County Commissioners and the County Development corporation, the mayors expressed need for either sewage or water.

Federal aid may be forthcoming through a public works bill which was scheduled to be introduced in Congress this week.

Graduate of Drexel

State Road To Get Surface Treatment

The Maryland State Roads commission is planning to begin its annual surface treatment program in this county next Monday.

John D. Bushby, district 6 engineer, said the work would be finished in Allegany probably today.

Surface treatment which adds to the life of the roads, is provided on a number of roads. Edward P. Kahl, roads engineer for the SRC, said there would be several stretches on U. S. route 219, from Red House to Guey Church, Deep Creek to McHenry, state route 560, from White Church toward Gorman, state route 135, from Lake's to top of Backbone mountain, route 49, from Lake's toward Swanton, and North Glade toward Bittinger, and route 38 through the town of Kitzmiller.

He said the work would take approximately ten days. Plans call for surface treatment which will seal weathering surface of roads and extend the life of the highway. The work calls for shooting emulsified asphaltic materials on the highway, spreading a course of crushed limestone chips and rolling them into place.

Another Test Made On Lake Fishing

The State Game and Inland Fish commission will conduct a three-day experiment in Deep Creek Lake in another program aimed at improving fishing in the impoundment.

A test conducted a few years ago in the Hoopole run area proved that the waters were overstocked with perch. The state agency then embarked on a program of stocking various species of predator fish in an attempt to balance the fish population and another test showed great improvement.

Walleyes, great northern pike and chain pickerel were stocked and the results have been promising. There have been many excellent catches of fish in the lake since this plan was adopted.

Site of the experiment this week was in the same area. This test was primarily to see how effective a plastic known as polyethylene would be in containing the chemical sulfonate within a certain specified area. The results of the experiment are not yet available.

Edwin R. Barry, chief of the fish management division of the Game and Inland Fish commission, was in charge of the test. Two divers from the Chesapeake Bay institute were on hand to assist in gathering the fish suffocated in the period.

Secures Approval For Public Works Money at Crellin

Senator Bernard I. Gonder appeared before the State Board of Public Works Monday, July 11, to request immediate release of $8,000 appropriated last year to help with the clearance of pollution from the Crellin coal tipple area now draining into the Yough river. The request was approved.

This appropriation was considered of special importance at the time inasmuch as a new school is being constructed on the site of the former coal tipple and railroad tracks. The school board is anxious to have the ground cleaned of the tipple pile and put in readiness to be used as a play area for the school children. Plans call for the clearance of the tipple, covering of area with dirt, and drainage of swamp area in rear of railroad tracks.

Attending the meeting with Senator Gonder was Willard L. Hawkins, superintendent of schools, Gov. Taves heads the Board of Public Works, along with Comptroller Goldstein, Hooper Miles, State Treasurer, and James Renie, Director of the Budget.

Arguments Heard On Senate Seating

Judge O. Bowie Duckett took under consideration last Thursday arguments whether the Maryland Senate should be reappointed in addition to the House of Delegates.

The Anne Arundel County Circuit court judge ruled May 24 that appointment of the 123-member House violated the constitutional right of metropolitan residents to equal protection of the laws under the 14th amendment.

The Maryland Legislature, meeting in special session, after his ruling, added 19 seats to the House for the benefit of urban areas.

Judge Duckett said he felt the Senate set up was not constitutional because of its similarity to the U. S. Senate but made no final ruling. The Maryland committee for Fair Representation contend that more seats must be supplied in the Senate for urban areas if the whole legislature is to be considered constitutionally apportioned.

The attorney general argued that the Senate is soundly apportioned on its present historic lines and said that to relate it to population would be to decree "a new form of government" in Maryland.

He urged the court not to overturn the form of government which has long been established in the constitution.

NASA was planning two more orbital flights this year.

Economic Inventory Is Presented Monday

A community economic inventory of Garrett County, to provide valuable information for prospective industry, was officially presented Lowell Loomis of the Garrett County Development corporation, at a brief meeting in the court house on Monday evening.

Information for the book of some fifty pages was acquired through county and state agencies and numerous individuals. The county commissioners cooperated in the gathering of the information.

One of the significant features was a map showing the overnight trucking area possible from Oakland for any industry settling in Garrett county. The area included Ohio, Pennsylvania, West Virginia, Delaware, New Jersey and parts of New York, Kentucky and Tennessee, with a population of 53,657,703 people with an effective buying income of $113 billion, equivalent to 30 percent of the U. S. buying income.

Demurrers Filed In Suit For Libel

Attorney Asks That One Case Against One Defendant Be Quashed

Demurrers to the libel suit against Penn Alps, Inc., and Dr. Alta Schrock were filed in the Circuit Court here on Tuesday through Lewis R. Jones, attorney, and in a brief reply moved that an alleged service of summons upon the Allegheny Conference News be quashed, set aside and annulled, and that the action be dismissed.

The suit was docketed several days ago by Mrs. Lois Zehner, of Grantsville, against Penn Alps, Inc., The Allegheny Conference News, and Dr. Alta Schrock, who claimed that a false and malicious statement was made concerning her, and that it was libelous. She asked damages of $50,000, through three Hazerstown attorneys, Read, Broadwater and Bouboltz.

In the answer filed Tuesday, Attorney Jones asked a demurrer to the declaration covering Penn Alps, Inc., because "No allegation in said declaration that the defendant participated in any way in the alleged publication complained of; that there are no words quoted in said declaration which refer to the plaintiff; that words complained of used in said alleged publication are not as a matter of law, libelous per se, that words complained of used in said alleged publication are not as a matter of law, libelous of the plaintiff; that words complained of used in said alleged publication do not as a matter of law, refer to or reflect on the plaintiff; and that words quoted in said declaration do not impute any misconduct to plaintiff and do not in their ordinary meaning reflect in any way upon the plaintiff, nor is said alleged publication capable of the meaning as ascribed to it by said declaration."

Similar reasons were given in seeking the demurrer in regard to Dr. Schrock, claiming that there (Continued on Page Four)

There are some eighteen producing wells in the area.

Overture

"I suggest," writes Senator Barry Goldwater in Human Events, "that we oppose as strenuously as we possibly can, the extension of executive power. And I suggest we do this in the public interest and for the protection of the 'general welfare.'"

The Senator noted that the phrase "public interest" can be adapted to any situation by a "glub executive," noting as a startling example the recent battle with the steel industry which "generates only about two percent of the gross national product."

"There is no law on the books which says the President shall have the power to fix prices," reminds Senator Goldwater. "There was no request from industry spokesmen that the Government help them, out of its bureaucratic wisdom, to decide what they should charge for their product. There was no existing supply emergency that warranted extreme executive

"There were none of these things. There was only an executive will, backed by the police powers of the Federal bureaucracy, to bring about a stated condition in the economic system. And this will was used to force—to compel—to intimidate in a fashion usually associated with totalitarian states.

"You can't staff a new administration with liberal professors, labor union officials and theorists from Americans for Democratic Action and expect it to adopt a strong line for business freedom. Fundamentally, the advisors to whom the President listens have long been on the side of more and more government interference with and control of the free enterprise system.

As Scripps-Howard writer Henry J. Taylor wrote recently, the White House brain-trusters 'bring less confidence to business than Jesse James brought to a bank.' And I don't care what kind or how many verbal reassurances you businessmen get from government officials. So long as the President listens to the left-wing radicals in his administration, the business community is in trouble."

The foregoing excerpt, we think, may be helpful in understanding the strange "olive branch" address of the President at Yale, in which, while courting confidence and fraternity of the business community, he threatened reprisal should "an angry argument" be forced upon his administration; and in which, while asking for cooperation, he appeared to be sneering at the "cliques of our forebears" be swept aside.

We have reason to expect that "serious dialogue" which he asked will turn out to be a monologue.—U. S. Press Association, Inc.

mon, Frazee, Doerr and Brobst. In its application Texas Eastern said it would use the Accident field both as a source of natural gas and as a storage for gas transmitted from the southwest.

In a story published last year it was noted that the Texas Eastern transmission corporation was engaged primarily in the transportation and sale at wholesale of natural gas. Its gas pipelines extend from the Mexican border to the Atlantic seaboard. The system has an authorized delivery capacity in its principal sales area of approximately 2 billion, 362 million cubic feet per day.

The corporation was formed in 1947. It began operations with purchase of the war-built big inch and little big inch pipelines, converting them to transmission of natural gas.

The Accident field last year had 40,000,000 cubic feet of proved natural gas reserves, it was stated.

Two centuries ago a glassmaker in Pennsylvania provided the land for the erection of a church. But he attached a string to his gift. Each year the congregation must pay to him, or to his descendants, one red rose, forever.

Annually in a traditional service the members of that church fulfil the terms of their deed. In the words of a reverent visitor, "God's rent is paid in coin more worthy than man's."

Wh? t strange thrust of imagination devised such a price. Certainly it was more than a man's love of roses...

Wisely he realized our tendency to take for granted our blessings. Per- vently he prayed that we would forever treasure the privilege of worship. Ger- ly he reminds us that there is beauty and happiness in every sacrifice for the support of God's House.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on the Church. They are: (1) For his earth for the building of character and own sake. (2) For his children's sake, good citizenship. It is a storehouse of (3) For the sake of his community spiritual values. Without a strong and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church, neither democracy nor civiliza- tion can survive. There are four and material support. Plan to go to second reason why every person should church regularly and read your Bible attend services regularly and support daily.

When God Has Won

Lesson for June 24, 1962

THE bloodiest book in the Bible is the last one, Revelation. Weird and terrible, its pictures tell the story of the war between good and evil, between God and Satan. In this war God's servants suffer agonies, and are in- deed tempted to despair. Yet in the end the victory is God's, and his faithful peo- ple share it. A note running from "overcome," "conquer," "victory." While all the books of the Bible point forward, more or less, this is specially true of Revelation, which through all the red fog and the darkness focuses on God's final triumph.

God keeps promises

As every one is aware, this strange book has aroused innumerable arguments over its pre- cise meaning, especially in de- tails. But the main point is agreed on by all serious students of it: GOD WILL WIN. This does not get rid of all the questions we may have about it. These last two chapters, for example: Do they refer to something still in the future, or do they refer to something going on now? Are these pictures of heaven, or are they pictures of this earth in some future era? Let us venture a suggestion which might include both these possibilities. Let us try taking what is said in these fa- mous and beautiful chapters, as an assurance, made in word-pictures, of what it will be like when God's great war with evil on this earth and in this universe is crowned with victory. If you like to think of this as in heaven (be- cause we have heard this so often at funerals), or on the renewed earth in a new universe, either way this is the kind of world which it is God's intention to bring forth, the kind of world which will be a fit home for his people. It is a world in which all the good promises of God will be fulfilled. What manner of world will it be, the world of the heart's desire of the God who is Love? We can note only a very few of its special glories. For one thing, it is a world with evil shut out. No evil has that great serpent, the de- ceiver of men, been destroyed at long last, but all those human beings who have said to evil, "Be thou my good, be shut out—all the unclean, the cowards, those who love and make lies. Evil, as we have all long since discovered, has many forms. Wickedness is only one form of it. There is also suffering, and this can be of the heart and mind, not only of the body. But there shall be no more pain, no more crying nor tears; so we know that when God has won his victory, all the dark bur- dens that weigh now on the souls of men, even those griefs in which no evil mingles,—these will all have vanished. The last enemy, Death, will lie conquered, and only Life fill all God's new world. "And night shall be no more." Considering how often, in the Bible and out, darkness is a sym- bol of ignorance and error, we may believe, and the Christian church does believe, that in God's world, when it finally dawns, (and indeed in heaven now) the mists of half-knowledge and groping ig- norance that now surround even the wisest mind, will be blown away in the dawn-wind of eternity. "—and God Himself will be with them!"

Best of all, and including all that is good,—God himself will be with his people; giver of life, of light, of healing, and of comfort. Here some one may think of a question. Are not all these things true in this life, here and now? Do we not have eternal life? Is not God here on earth as he is everywhere? Are there not rare spirits in whom God has driven out evil? Does the Spirit of God not already bring light and heal- ing and peace? Yes, this is true. God grants to his people, here and now, such "foretastes of heaven" as assure us to strive with him, and give sure promise of victory at last. Wherever true, unselfish love has its flower and fruit, wherever faith and hope join with love to make this dark life brighter,—in every Christian heart and home, in every fellowship where the Spirit of Christ draws all together, there God's world already comes. ## Pictures Out Of The Past

The old photograph published today is unusual in that it was submitted by the man who took the picture more than fifty years ago.

Zenas McIlott, of Route 1, Oakland, is the owner, and one of the pioneer photographers of this area. He is becoming interested in the hobby when a great deal of mystery surrounded the little black camera box and the admonition to "Watch the birdie!" Some of Mr. McIlott's pictures have previously appeared in the "Pictures Out of the Past" series.

Today, according to the photographer, the group shown is a class in the Swallow Falls school. Some doubt exists as to the correct date. The original is dated both "1906" and "1913"; probably the latter being more nearly correct.

Oakland's pace-setting tossers padded their Town and Country Softball league lead Sunday by sweeping a pair of games from Swallow Falls 6-0 and 10-1, while runner-up White Rock was idle.

The victories were the 10th and 11th of the season for Oakland. George Stewart chalked up his 6th mound triumph in the opener with a two-hit shutout effort while trying Wolf notched his fifth win in six games.

Terry Colaw, Don Colaw and Toby Colaw belted home runs in the doubleheader for Oakland.

Kitzmiller scored its initial victory by knocking off National Guard 16 to 14 in a slugfest in the first of two games at Kitzmiller. The Guard bounced back to cap the nightcap 10-4 to hand Kitzmiller its 11th defeat. Ken Metheny was the winner of one game and Crouse was the winner for Kitzmiller.

Dick Reckner and Paul Eaton pitched Loch Lynn to a pair of wins over Crellin on the latter's diamond. Loch Lynn rallied for two runs in the seventh to win the opener, 4-3, then pounded out 12 hits for a 15-3 triumph in the second game. Dick Humpherson lost both decisions.

Books in memory of Mrs. Lawrence Fraley, Mrs. J. S. Cooper, Mrs. Elta White and James Blaine Frantz have been presented to the library recently.

The Oakland Civic Club, the Oakland-Mt. Lake Park Lions club, the Wednesday Bridge club, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis R. Jones, Mrs. William Taylor, Mrs. B. J. Nature study is the subject of an exhibit of books near the front of the library. Hal Barland's new book, "Beyond Your Doorstep," is a good introduction "for anyone who walks the woods and fields and wants to learn about the living things he has often looked at but never seen."

"Discovering Nature" by Charlotte Gault, "Introduction to Nature" by John Kieran, "Complete Field Guide to American Wildlife" by Henry Collins, "Journey into Summer" by Edwin Teale and "Adventures with a Hand Lens" by Richard Headstrom are among the many other books which can add to our enjoyment of the world of the out-of-doors.

The two-volume "Wild Flowers of Western Pennsylvania and Upper Ohio Basin" by O. E. Jennings and Andrew Avinoff is a beautiful and inclusive guide to flowering plants.

The library has many useful handbooks and field guides on trees, flowers, birds, mushrooms, mosses and other forms of wild life.

Grantsville Wins, Loses In Baseball

Grantsville Sluggers, currently wielding the whip in the Pen-Mar Baseball league race, last Saturday took another lunge toward the top by nipping the faltering Hyndman Merchants 6-5 in Grantsville.

The Sluggers, having won five of their last six games, moved to within a half game of runner-up Barreilleville and are only two games behind the Frostburg Merchants. Saturday's makeup battle at Grantsville was anything but a pitcher's duel, each club collected a dozen hits, but Bob Keister outlasted a pair of Hyndman hurlers, Jim Norris and Sam Glatfelter, to pick up the victory, his sixth against one loss.

Attention Is Called To Liability Insurance Laws

Attention was called this week to a regulation in the automobile liability insurance laws which makes it mandatory to pay an assessment of $32.00 if a person's coverage has lapsed even for one day.

Insurance agents say they have been receiving queries from customers.

The law states that should a person allow his automobile liability insurance coverage to be cancelled, expire, or lapse for even one day he will be assessed by the Department of Motor Vehicles. The assessment must be made under the law covering uninsured motor vehicles and the Unsatisfied Judgment Fund. Even if a person should pay up his insurance the following day after lapsing he could not get his $32 refunded.

If the assessment is not paid, persons will be required to turn in their automobile tags.

Sad Occasion . . .

Monday was truly a sad day in the annals of American history, for on that day the Supreme Court banned prayer in public schools, declaring it a violation of the first amendment. This decision from the same court that opens sessions with prayer and the same court that spends money on which is inscribed "In God We Trust."

The ruling has been widely denounced, and rightly so. The framers of the Constitution, all persons of strong religious convictions, never intended it to force God out of any area. The Constitution gives people freedom OF religion, not freedom FROM religion.

Amid this avalanche of bitter criticism of the Supreme Court, Congressmen have already proposed that the Constitution be changed in such a way that the tribunal's ban on prayers in public schools be permanently knocked down.

Senator J. Glenn Beall, Maryland Republican, yesterday introduced a constitutional amendment to allow the Nation's public schools to offer periods of voluntary, non-sectarian prayer. Although I find the court's decision shocking, I shall not attempt to argue against it or the court in any way. Instead I shall accept the ruling and the new interpretation of the First Amendment and I shall offer my proposal in an attempt to reverse what the court has decided and to return to that condition which many of us felt was protected rather than denied by our Constitution.

"Many of the founding fathers of our Nation sailed the perilous seas to these shores because of events stemming (Continued on Page Four)

WRONG DESTINATION—This freight car, headed for the siding at the Southern States warehouse in Oakland, really got sidetracked early Monday morning and crashed into the corner of the Acorn Associates building. Instead of taking the freight siding, it moved onto a little spur at Peters Fuel Corporation, ran off the end and continued into the building before the switching engineer could bring it to a halt. No estimate of the damage has been made. Acorn Associates officials said there was damage to some merchandise inside the building, in addition to tearing out the corner.
